Water Job to Cost $2,450,000

Project Half Completed

Mayor Releases New Estimate

Mansfield's Clear Fork water project, which started as a million-dollar program four years ago, will cost $2,450,000 to complete, engineers on the project estimated today.

The big project is 51 per cent completed. The dam is finished, but the pumping station and filtration plant still must be built. The filtration plant alone is expected to cost $502,434.

When the program is completed, the city's water supply will be upped to 10,000,000 gallons a day, approximately double the present figure.

So far $1,742,282 has been appropriated by the city for the work. The completed units of the program have cost $1,264,818.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, who released the figures today, said rising labor and materials costs were responsible for the big jump in estimated cost of the program.

The mayor said the city has the money to finish the program. The major part of the funds was provided in two bond issues. The rest will come from city revenue.

DAM COSTS $443,465

The most expensive single item constructed so far was the $443,465 Clear Fork dam, which was completed at about $20,000 more than the original estimate. The dam was begun in spring of 1947. It is 44 feet high and will impound four billion, four hundred million gallons of water.

Total appropriated for construction alone listed in today's statement was $1,334,502. About 47 per cent of this construction, which is 75 per cent of the entire project, has been completed.

Latest council action on Clear Fork was at a special session Tuesday at which council authorized the purchase of material and equipment at an estimated cost of $150,000 for the filtration plant.

Reds Irked, Warn Danes

LONDON — (INS) — The London Daily Graphic reported today that Russia has given Denmark a "near ultimatum" to stay out of the Atlantic pact.

In a dispatch from Copenhagen, the newspaper said that Premier Stalin told the Danes that participation in the alliance would be "playing with fire."

Danish Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen is presently in Washington discussing Danish participation in the pact with U. S. Secretary of State Acheson.

The Russian warning against such action reportedly was delivered by the Soviet minister in the Danish capital in two unofficial statements as well as a similar warning made to Denmark's minister in Moscow.

Heroic Frenchman Claimed By Death

PARIS — (AP) — France today mourned the death of Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, a fighting hero of two world wars who died last night.

Giraud made a dramatic escape from the nazis in 1942—his sixth break-out from German prisons in two wars—to help organize Free French resistance in Africa. The day before he died he was awarded his nation's highest military decoration—the Medaille Militaire.

Plunges to Death

CINCINNATI — (INS) — Willard G. Henry, 29, of Spring City, Tenn., was dead today, victim of an accidental 60-foot plunge while working in a power station of the Cincinnati Gas and Electric company.

Tygers In District Finals

By FRED THARP
News-Journal Sports Editor

Four down and five to go.

That's the way the Mansfield Senior high school basketball tournament scoreboard reads as the Tygers prepare for their district tourney date with the Bellevue Redmen tonight at 8:30 at the Sandusky junior high gym.

Mansfield and Bellevue will meet in the finals of the district with a Toledo regional tournament berth at stake.

Last night at Sandusky, the Mansfield Tygers defeated Fostoria in a thrill-packed game, 52 to 45 while Bellevue romped over Toledo Whitmer, 69 to 30.

The Tygers need five more tourney victories to satisfy their quest for their first state championship since 1909. Already by the boards are Galion, Ashland and Bucyrus for the Mansfield sectional championship and now Fostoria in the district.

However, tonight the Tgyers must be rated a slight underdog to Bellevue. The two teams met during the regular season at Bellevue with the Redmen taking a 44-to-37 decision. Last week, Bellevue defeated Port Clinton for the Sandusky sectional title, 53 to 52.

TIDE TURNS

Just as the Tygers have been in and out all season, so they went against Fostoria. The first half saw the Tygers falter in

Fake Revolt Seen Trap

LONDON — (INS) — The London News Chronicle said today that the British radio has warned anti-communist Czechoslovakians that the communist government plans to fake "rebolt" in order to trap political opponents.

According to the newspaper the BBC warned that the hoax is set for March 21.

The News Chronicle said the warning to "free" Czechoslovakians was contained in a lengthy broadcast on the anniversary of the death of Jan Masaryk, fromer Czechoslovakian foreign minister.

Masaryk died on March 10, 1948, in a plunge from a window in the office of the foreign ministry in Prague two weeks after a communist coup seized control of the country.

Flames Sweep College Hall

MARIETTA — (AP) — Fire today partially destroyed a student union building on the Marietta college campus and threatened four other buildings housing scores of students and their families. None was injured.

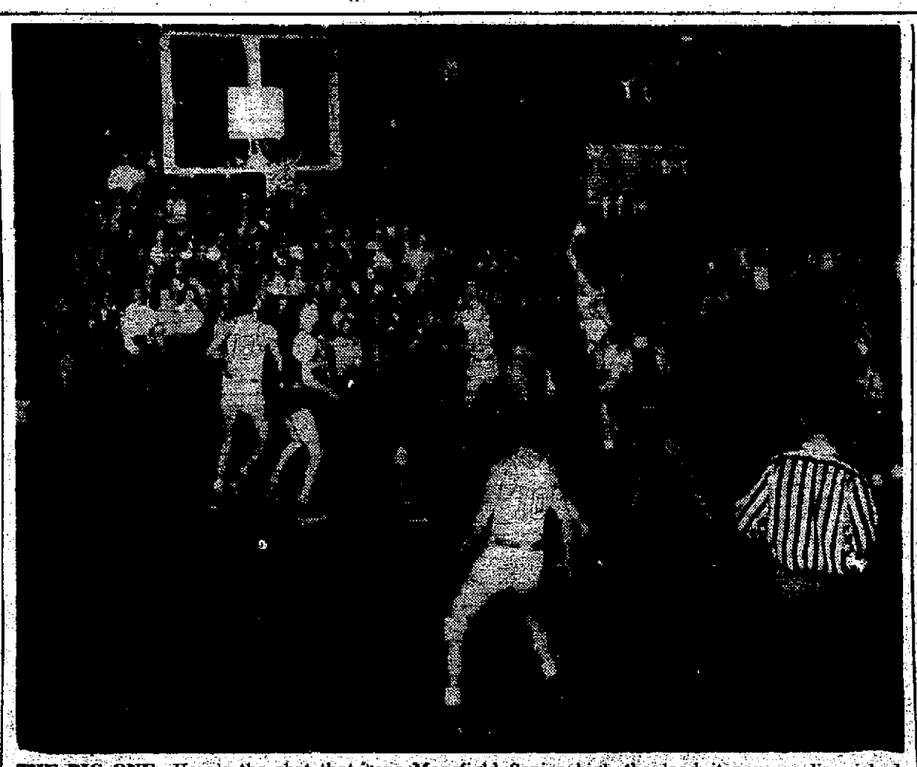
John Farrell, a graduate student, discovered the fire on the second floor of 80-year-old Parsons hall. He awakened his wife and two children in their apartment and led them to safety.

He then roused Dr. Carl M. Scott, an economics professor, his wife and three children in an adjoining apartment, and they too fled the swiftly gathering flames.

Say 'Pumpkin Paper' Potographer Found

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Official circles broadly intimated today that the second missing photographer in the "pumpkin papers" spy case has been located and is being questioned by federal agents in California.

Various governmental sources declined to reveal any details in the latest development in the sensational red spy case, but in effect confirmed the reports.



THE BIG ONE—Here's the shot that gave Mansfield Senior high the lead it never relinquished in winning last night's district tournament game, 52-45, over Fostoria at Sandusky. Jimmy Anderson leaps high from the foul circle to toss in a one-hander, giving Mansfield the edge, 41-40, in the first two minutes of the fourth quarter. Other Mansfield players in the picture are Ed Demyan (19) and Paul Ferguson (10).

2 Units Top Fund Quotas

Butler City Precinct Hit Red Cross Goals

The Red Cross campaign checked up a total of $16,653 today toward a goal of $48,835, it was reported from headquarters by Glenn L. Bierly, campaign chairman. This amount includes $1,039.75 from Shelby.

Butler village, with a quota of $172 went "over the top" with a reported $216.90. Mrs. Margaret Brewer is chairman there.

Precinct J in the Third ward, Mansfield, headed by Mrs. J. H. Boyd, also exceeded its quota. Mrs. Boyd turned in $220.50 with a quota of $200.

The campaign which opened March 1, starts its third week Monday. Returns from the county have been slow in coming it, partly because of the bad weather and because reports usually are completed before they are turned in.

Orders Probe In 'Drowning'

CHICAGO —(INS)— The Cook county coroner today cast suspicion of foul play in the death of Daniel Heekin, jr., missing Sears executive whose body was found floating in Lake Michigan, and ordered a complete investigation of the case.

Coroner A. L. Brodie declared: "I'm not completely satisfied with the case. He might have been slugged, poisoned, or drowned. I am ordering a complete investigation, including an autopsy and a chemical analysis"

EXPRESS AT STANDSTILL

NEW YORK — (AP) —Railway express operations were at a virtual stand still here today as the company moved to complete laying off of 9,000 employes.

Mitchell Reports:

Churchmen Support Moral Force, U. N.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church and one of the 465 Protestant delegates who met in Cleveland this week to discuss international affairs, returned last night from that conference deeply impressed with the responsibility of the church in presenting a united front against tyranny and war.

Theme of the conference, Rev. Mitchell said, was "The Moral Use of American Power." The conference was divided into three groups for discussion periods. These three were: American Power and our policy in Europe, American Power and the United Nations, American Power and our policy in the Far East.

Rev. Mitchell was a member of the first group at which Charles E. Bohlen, counselor of the State Department, spoke in a session, which was barred to newspaper men. Bohlen explained principally the factors of the proposed North Atlantic pact.

Later, in a plenary session, the conference opposed ratification of the pact until every American has a chance to know its contents.

Much of the foreign policy of the country was presented by John Foster Dulles, Reinhold Neihbur and O. Frederic Nolde.

In addition to opposition to quick ratification of the North Atlantic pact, Rev. Mitchell said the conference voted to oppose all dictatorial tyranny which would refuse religious liberty; it urged whole-hearted support of the United Nations as the best way to preserve peace; it advised against a self-righteous attitude toward communism and any act which would "validly appear as aggressive to Russia," although at the same time calling for a strong America to check communism.

As regards our policy on Russia, the conference voted to oppose tyranny, to always keep open the channels of negotiations and to work wherever possible through the framework of the UN.

The conference prepared a message to be taken back to the churches of America and its 35,000,000 Protestant members. This message, included the statement, according to Rev. Mitchell, "that if our nation's leadership is to be worthy, it must develop constructive and creative programs that will capture the imagination and enlist the support of the multitudes whose interest in battling political, economic and racial injustice is greater than their interest in defending such injustice merely because communism attacks it."

The conference, while urging support of the United Nations, pointed out that the world order could not be achieved, "except as there is world-wide acceptance of the moral principles on which that law and order are based."

The conference further recommended, Rev. Mitchell said, that the control of foreign policy be placed in civilian rather than military hands.

New Violence Hits

COLUMBUS — (INS) — More than 100 sympathizers joined striking CIO Smelter workers at the American Zinc Oxide plant at Columbus late yesterday in a flare up in which one picket was run down by a car and two pickets out on bond today.

South, GOP Beat Gag Rule

Administration Planning Fight

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Administration Democrats called a post-defeat caucus today to decide whether even a further "token" effort to break the Dixie filibuster against gag rule is worthwhile.

President Truman, vacationing at Key West, Fla., was understood to have sent prompt word to his Senate leaders that he wished the anti-filibuster fight to go on despite last night's victory by Dixie senators.

At issue is the President's whole civil rights program.

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill, scheduled a session of northern Democrats in advance of today's Senate session.

The administration's stand was rejected by a five-vote margin at the climax of a dramatic 10 ½-hour session last night when the Senate overturned a ruling by Vice President Barkley who held that present rules permit a gag on a filibuster. The vote was 46-41.

'HOPELESS' NOW

Ad ministra tion lieutenants frankly conceded that any further hope of cracking the determined opposition of southern Democrats to a change in the cloture rule was almost hopeless at this time.

But they indicated it might be decided to spend a few days making the effort until it becomes necessary to take up such pressing legislation as rent control. Three other major measures — housing, foreign aid and labor — are awaiting Senate action.

King Goes Under Knife

English Ruler 'Doing Fine'

LONDON — (UP) — King George VI underwent an operation to restore circulation to his right foot today and was later reported to have come through the two-hour ordeal in an "entirely satisfactory" manner.

The operation itself took less than an hour, but the 53-year-old monarch was under anaesthesia for more than two hours. The anaesthetic took effect a few minutes before 10 a. m. and he did not regain consciousness until noon.

Nine of the foremost physicians in Britain and five nurses were in attendance. The operation was performed in a bedroom of Buckingham Palace that had been converted into an operating theater earlier this week.

It was understood the physicians made a two-inch incision in the king's right side to sever a nerve controlling the circulation of blood to the right foot.

American GI's, Girls Attacked

MANILA — (UP) — One American enlisted man and two Filipino girls were killed early today and five other Filipino girls wounded when unidentified attackers ambushed an army bus carrying the girls home from a dance at Clark field.

An official announcement said the attackers sprayed the bus with automatic gunfire when it was only about 300 yards from one of the gates in the fence surrounding the base.

Sets Non-Stop Mark

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (AP) — A B-36 super-bomber landed at Carswell air base today after a 9,600-mile non-stop flight, the longest ever made in a B-36.

The plane was not refueled in flight and had two hours of fuel left when it landed, Carswell air base said.

Mine Walkout Aids Backers Of T-H Law

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Some 10,000 workers, representing about 30 per cent of its total employes, will be laid off next Wednesday because of the coal mining stoppage, called for by John L. Lewis, the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad announced today.

A company spokesman said "our entire capital improvement program will be stopped."

C. & O. shops immediately affected will be the car shops at Russell, Ky., the Clifton, Va., heavy equipment shops and the Huntington, W. Va., locomotive shops.

Meanwhile, the grandstand coal strike strengthened the hand of members of Congress who are striving to keep the Taft-Hartley labor law on the books.

Republican supporters of the act said the two-weeks' work stoppage, to begin Monday in all eastern mines, will point up the need for retaining the Taft-Hartley law—especially those provisions which give the government the power to halt strikes affecting the national welfare.

The impact of the strike was expected to hit hardest at administration efforts to repeal the Taft-Hartley law.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind) said Lewis's action should make repeal-minded congressmen think twice.

Even the act's most bitter Democratic critics conceded Lewis' strike call will probably mean the inclusion of many Taft-Hartley sections in the administration's bill to repeal the present law and re-enact a modified Wagner act.

Chairman Elbert Thomas, D., Utah, of the Senate Labor committee said the forthcoming strike "will inflame some people emotionally."

"From that standpoint," he said, "it is very bad."

The two-weeks layoff is expected to have little effect on the nation's economy because there is now a 45-day supply of coal above ground—the largest stockpile in seven years. Steel mills plan to continue to operate at full speed.

Lewis ordered the two-weeks work stoppage late yesterday as a protest against President Truman's re-appointment of James M. Boyd as director of the federal bureau of mines. His strike call, affecting 425,000 United Mine Workers, applies only to mines east of the Mississippi.

In characteristic prose, Lewis said "This period of inaction will emphasize the Mine Workers' opposition to one Boyd, an incompetent unqualified person who has usurped the office and functions of director of the federal bureau of mines without Senate confirmation as required by statute.

"Concurrently, the Mine Workers will mourn the unnecessary slaughter of 55,115 men killed and injured in the calendar year 1948, during Boyd's incumbency of his usurped office."

To Lay Off 1,500

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (UP) — The Louisville and Nashville railroad announced today that it will lay off approximately 1,500 employes because of the pending coal mining stoppage Monday.

Hit-Skip Case Suspect Found

Sheriff's deputies ordered a suspect in a hit-skip accident to report to the sheriff's office at 4:30 p. m. today, after a witness gave them the license number of his car.

The suspect's car struck that of Virgil Phillips, of Mansfield, R. D. 1, while it was parked at Helen's Lunch, on Springmill road, at 11:30 p. m. yesterday.

In backing out, the suspect's car tore off the bumper and loosened the trunk rack on Phillip's car, deputies said

1 Dead, Eight Hurt As Fire Hits Hotel

CHICAGO —(INS)— One man died and eight others were injured today in a fire which swept the Atlas hotel annex on Chicago's near north side.

Ten other persons were rescued by firemen and a score more fled into the streets as flames licked through the structure.

British Reinforce Garrison

Will Fire If Border Crossed

LONDON —(INS)— The commander of British troops at the Red sea port of Aqaba was reported today to have warned Israeli troops in the area that if they cross the TransJordan border "we will fire."

The British government, meanwhile, issued a statement that British re-inforcements are being sent to Aqaba to strengthen the garrison already there.

Observers in London are hopeful, however, that the cease-fire agreement signed yesterday at Rhodes by Israel and Trans-Jordan has ended any danger of a clash in the Aqaba area.

The London News Chronicle reported the warning of the British commander at the town, which is just across the Israeli border in TransJordan.

This newspaper estimated that 1,600 Israeli troops are camped on the Gulf of Aqaba on territory Israel regards as hers by terms of the United Nations Palestine plan. British strength in Aqaba is estimated at 1,000.

Troops were first sent to Aqaba under terms of a mutual aid treaty between Britain and TransJordan. The garrison was bolstered when five RAF planes were shot down in January.

The London Daily Express said the latest reports of troops movements are a continuation of such treaty aid and have no relation to Israeli actions in the Aqaba area.

The diplomatic correspondent for the Express said, however, Britain has no intention of taking hostile action against Israeli forces.

Builds Cage For Turtle; If and When—

CHURUBUSCO, Ind. — (UP) — Farmer Gale Harris was busy welding a big cage today so he can exhibit Oscar, the giant turtle, when and if the reptile is captured and hauled out of Fulks lake.

Harris hired an airplane to help in the search for the turtle, rumored to be 500 years old and to weigh 500 pounds. But bad weather temporarily halted the flight, and Harris and his father-in-law, Kenneth Leitch, started to build the cage.

"We wouldn't pay $1,800 for any turtle. Not even a performing one," zoo officials said.

BUT NO ONE HURT

MANCHESTER, N. H. — (UP) — Arms, legs and mangled torsos were scattered over the highway when a truck skidded and went over a 10-foot embankment. But there was no blood. The limbs belonged to a load of puppets.

City Gets Mixture of Snow and Sunshine

Fickle March Shows New Bag of Tricks

Mansfielders went to work in more winter weather this morning as fickle March displayed some new tricks.

About an inch of snow fell during the night and this morning, while the mercury dipped to a chilly 16 degrees during the early morning.

The weatherman had good news today. Skies are to clear and Sunday is expected to be fair and warmer. The temperature probably will fall to the low 20's again tonight, the forecast said. More cold is due Monday night.

Eight men manned four city street department trucks this morning, spreading salt on icy pavements. Gravel was spread on hills early today. Police reported several cases of "fender benders" due to slippery streets, but there were no serious accidents.

All county roads were open today, but hard surface roads still were slippery at noon. Crews were out early this morning with four cinder trucks working on county roads.

The state highway patrol reported U. S. Route 42 very slippery between Mansfield and Ashland this morning.

Meanwhile ice jams dammed swollen Nebraska streams today, backing water over lowlands and forcing residents from their homes. Continued rains raised rivers in California and threatened a resort area.

Forty-eight families fled from their homes on Fremont Island in the center of the Platte river as three feet of water flowed over the island. The Platte also was flooding at Venice, Schuyler, Clarks and Central City in Nebraska, and Army engineers at Omaha said the Big Sioux was flooding near Sioux Falls, S. D.

Declarations By U. S. Communists As Treasonous as If In Wartime

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has referred to William Z. Foster and Eugene Dennis, the chairman and general secretary of the Communist party, as traitors for their endorsement of the treasonous pledge of Maurice Thorez, their French comrade, to go over to the enemy whenever Russian troops invade France in war.

Foster and Dennis would cooperate with the Soviet to cause the defeat of the United States in such a war.

Thorez betrayed his country in the last war, deserting to abscond to Russia after the Germans had swept in and communist traitors in the corrupt French army had refused to fight. When the war was over and France lay prostrate, disgraced beyond any hope of moral and patriotic recovery, this traitor came back from safe asylum in Russia and was not molested while swaggering patrioteers abused forlorn Frenchwomen suspected of amiability with German soldiers.

In all such heroic retributions there was reason to suspect that the righteous vigilantes were merely jealous, but, assuming the worst, the erring females had been guilty of trivialities by comparison with the crimes of Thorez and his group.

Yet, Laval was shot and Petain, a doddering and overrated old landmark, was filed away in a prison on an island by the shameless rabble of France for bowing to the defeat wrought by Thorex and for trying to make a nation out of the remnants left them.

The constitutional definition of treason says that it shall consist only in levying war against "them," meaning the United States, or "in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort."

It is an unfortunate fact that treason does not legally include disloyal promises uttered before war is legally acknowledged to exist. In that case, Foster and Dennis would be eligible for the firing squad without question.

However, inasmuch as Mr. Truman long ago acknowledged the existence of a cold war between the United States and Russia, the conduct of Foster and Dennis is as bad as though their adherence to the enemy had been declared in time of formal war.

It is as vicious and hostile to the United States as it could be under any circumstances and the fact must be considered, too, that when that war does come, months may pass before we can actually declare war by the legal congressional action.

One atom bomb on Washington could obliterate Congress, leaving no method for creating another body with authority to declare war.

Meanwhile, Foster, Dennis and the quarter of a million pro-Russian traitors in the city of New York and in New Jersey would be free to welcome, assist, entertain and otherwise facilitate the work of the visiting hosts of Russian missionaries come to impose a "democratic peace" on the remainder of the American people.

Meanwhile, however, we do retain the congressional enactment that was invoked to round up our native and foreign-born Japanese during World War II, which could be used today to throw into concentration camps not only Foster and Dennis but about a quarter of a million obvious traitors in New York and vicinity, Washington and Hollywood.

The law which was used for this purpose was upheld by the Supreme Court in as evil a mass of casuistry as the devious mind of a New Dealer ever concerted.

It held that these people were not sequestered because we had any aversion to their race or suspicion of them because of their race, which was the only reason why we did what we did to them as every justice on the court well knew.

Ashlander Named to Scout Post

Bachmann to Direct Stepped-up Program

Carl Bachmann, of Ashland, Monday will become Johnny Appleseed Boy Scout area field executive, Floyd Dent, are a Scout executive, announced today.

The Johnny Appleseed area, with headquarters in Mansfield, has been without a field executive since September when Ray Turner left the position to work for the Scout council in Columbus, and left Dent as the only professional director of Scouting in the area.

Bachmann, an Eagle Scout himself, is 31 and a native of Ashland. He completed four years of college at Fenn College in November and has just returned from a six-week course in Scouting at the Mortimer L. Schiff Scout Reservation, Mendham, N. J.

Scouting has occupied a greater part of Bachmann's time for the past 18 years. He was assistant Scoutmaster of Ashland's Troop 6 and a member of Explorer Post 88.

With two men back on the job as professional directors of Scouting in this area, an expansion program of Scout activities will start as soon as Bachmann has had an opportunity to meet with all the Scouters in the Johnny Appleseed area.

The stepped-up program will include at least two new troops for Mansfield, additional Cub Scouting facilities where the program is now inadeq. ate or is non-existent, and new troops in Ashland, Galion, and Shelby.

One major factor in the present lag in Scouting in the area, brought out at the annual Johnny Appleseed council meeting last week and again by Dent today, is the lack of adult leadership for Scouting programs

A drive will be made in the near future to recruit Scouters in the area who have fallen out of the organization and to bring in new men to work with the Scouts.

Choristers Score Hit

Two audiences in Zanesville liked Mansfield's Mastersingers so well last night that the Mansfielders are going to be invited to sing there again next year.

The choral group and Soloist Robert Marshall of New York sang before two fair-sized crowds in the City auditorium. They were in the city at the request of the Shrine club.

Marshall and the chorus sang five encores each, the response was so enthusiastic.

The Mastersingers left Mansfield about 2:30 Friday afternoon and were guests at dinner of the Shrine club before the concerts, given at 7:30 p.m. and again at 9:30 p. m.

Following last night's concerts, A. LeMoine Derr and Marshall took a plane for New York City. During next week, Derr will attend the rehearsals of the Collegiate Chorale society directed by Robert Shaw, famed American conductor, and confer with a number of New York's prominent artists.

Rejects Bids On School

Board Finds Funds Too Short

SHELBY—Hope of constructing the new Central school and farm shop buildings here was dampened yesterday with the announcement that all bids had been rejected because they exceeded available funds.

J. A. Anderson, school board president, explained completion of the Auburn school building in July leaves an insufficient balance in the $600,000 levy, voted three years ago, to construct the Central school building along original plans.

According to Anderson but $228,000 will remain in the fund after Auburn's completion and $350,000 is needed to construct and equip Central as originally planned.

The board now will seek to borrow additional funds and watch the price level in building material costs. Bonded indebtedness regulations hewing to a six per cent of total valuation offer little help, Anderson said as he hinted another levy may reach the voters to assure construction under present costs.

The only general contracting bid was submitted by Freibel and Hartman, Shelby contractors. It was for $263,281.50 for the building without an auditorium.

Three heating and plumbing bids were received with the lowest one, of $49,769 submitted by the Mansfield Plumbing and Heating company. The low bid on electrical work was one for $19,726 by Buchman Electric company, Mansfield.

The low bid for the farm shop was $49,429.79 which included the lower of two bids on general contracting by Stacy Haun, Shelby contractor, amounting to $28,992 and bids of $18,275 for plumbing and $2,462 for electrical work.

Demolition of the present Central school building was included in the Freibel and Hartman bid, Anderson said in explaining it would cost $7,500 to handle the demolition separately.

Services Set For Mrs. Price

Funeral services for Mrs. Lulu Martha Price, 76, widow of Nathaniel Price, will be held at the Jones Memorial at 2 p. m. Monday, in charge of Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Price died at her home, 224 Central avenue, Friday noon.

She was born in Vinton county Sept. 11, 1872.

Surviving are two sons, Charles and Elmer McIntyre, both of Mansfield.

Fire Department Gets Two Calls

City firemen answered two calls in the last 24 hours. At 7:09 p. m. yesterday crewmen from Central station went to the home of Mary McMullen, 118 North Weldon avenue, where the chimney was burning out.

A call came from the Flexible Conveyor company, 26 West Sixth street, where welding sparks had ignited gasoline that had leaked from a car Station No 2 answered the call at 2 15 a. m today.

County GOP Leaders Invited to Session

Ralph Hardy, chairman of the Republican executive committee, and James V. Will, chairman of the Republican central committee, today were invited to a "Republican Day" rally to be held at Ohio Wesleyan university March 24

Besides hearing speakers on politics, those attending will hold discussion groups on the subject The invitation was extended by Dr Arthur S Flemming, president of the university.

Party Today Aids County Heart Fund

Dancing, barbershop quartet entertainment, an auction of new merchandise, and movies will highlight the all-day benefit party being held today at the Richland Recreation Center to provide funds for the Richland Heart association.

A Milwaukee bowling team came to Mansfield by plane to compete in an afternoon tournament with Mansfield's top keglers, the Baku Grotto team.

The evening program starts rolling at 9 p. m. with dancing in the center's ballroom to the music of Tommy Van's orchestra. The admission of $1 will be given to the local heart campaign. The men in the band donated their time.

Lou Rymkus, all-conference tackle of the Cleveland Browns and a former member of the All-America team while at Notre Dame, will "kick off" the intermission of the dance at 11 p. m.

Rymkus will give a short address in connection with the showing of movies of the 1948 football game between Notre Dame and Northwestern.

Merchandise, donated by Mansfield merchants, will be sold to the highest bidder in an auction following the movie. Proceeds from the auction will go to the heart fund.

Entertainment will be provided by the Miller's Barbershop quartet, also flown to Mansfield for today's program by the Kozak Distributing company, Crestline.

Another bowling contest is scheduled for 7 p. m. between the Milwaukee team and the local "Fighting Irish" team.

Asks $5,300 After Arrest

Cleveland Driver Sues Mansfielder

A Cleveland man yesterday filed suit in common pleas court for $5,300 against Henry F. Brinkman, 648 Highland avenue, asserting the defendant falsely, maliciously and without reasonable cause charged him in Mansfield municipal court with failure to stop after an accident.

The Clevelander, George L. Carwardine, said he was arrested on a warrant issued by the court here, held in the Cleveland city jail for 12 hours and required to give bail.

Carwardine adds that on Dec. 14, 1948 he was acquitted of the charges. He contends he was greatly injured in his credit and reputation, he was held in a loathsome jail until able to make bond, becoming sick and nervous, the petition says.

He asks $5,000 in damages, $100 for trips to Mansfield, and $200 for counsel fees used to defend himself in courts. His attorney is Lydon H. Beam.

Date Named In Road Meeting

A meeting to "compare notes" on highway improvements for Richland county has been set for Wednesday at 1 p. m. in the county commissioner's office.

The meeting was called at the request of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee, headed by John Conard. County Engineer Walter E Rusk said purpose of the meeting would be exchange ideas as to what should be done in improvement sand changes in the county and state systems in Richland county.

He said plans would be formulated for a general meeting later to which representatives of other Mansfield and county organizations would be invited.

Loses Arm, Builds Own New House

TACOMA, Wash. — (UP)—Oscar Sundin, 55, built his own house with one hand. Sundin lost his left arm in an industrial accident in 1941.

The hardest part of building his house was handling 45-pound cement blocks with just one arm. But he handled nails and a saw with surprising ease.

He did all the work himself except putting up rafters and installing some of the plumbing. His son-in-law and neighbors pitched in and gave him a hand there.

The house has four rooms, bath and an unfinished attic.

Taylor to Speak Sunday

Maurice W. Taylor, general secretary of the Mansfield YMCA, will address a conference of YMCA executives in Columbus tomorrow.

Subject of Taylor's talk will be "The YMCA's Opportunity Today". It will supplement the conference's theme of "The YMCA as a Life Work".

Purpose of the meeting is to recruit young men for work in the Ymca organizations throughout the state Taylor and other "Y" officials will interview porspective YMCA secretaries and present the future benefits if he decides to come into the professional ranks of YMCA workers.

National Operation Hinted

Suspect Escapes Through Window

NEW YORK — (INS) — A man taken into custody in connection with a fantastic plot to tap the telephone of 50 New York City officials made a wild out-the-window escape from city hall today.

City hall officials said the man, Kenneth Ryan, appeared to have made a "clean getaway" but a fast police search was mobilized and authorities seemed sure he wouldn't get far.

Mayor William O'Dwyer himself announced the wiretap plot and took charge of the investigation, which the mayor's office said involved at least two other men and a $100,000 "payment."

Police said the wire-tap scheme had "national implications" seemingly involving wiretapping of telephones in many other cities.

The only additional city mentioned specifically in the first phase of the investigation was Detroit, but the connection was not explained.

PURPOSE UNKNOWN

What other cities might be involved, or exactly what the purpose of the alleged plot might be, was not made known.

Ryan, who reportedly made a full confession of his part in the "listening in" plot, escaped from city hall through a window of a ladies' room.

Detectives guarding him said he got out of a window in the room, at the rear of city hall, and obtained just enough of a start to elude immediate re-arrest.

Held with Ryan, who is in his middle 40's and before his retirement from the police force six months ago was one of the country's leading experts on wire-tapping, was a former treasury agent.

The agent, Edward M. Jones, was described by U. S. attorneys as a former T-man employed by the Treasury department for five and one-half years until 1939.

According to police the entire scheme was financed by an unidentified prominent New Yorker who put up $100,000 to finance the ambitious wire-tapping plants.

Graveside Rites Set

BUCYRUS — Graveside services will be held at 1 p. m. Monday in Oakwood cemetery here for Roy M. Wolf, 63, former Mansfielder, who died Thursday in Pittsburgh of a heart attack. Initial rites will be held tonight in Pittsburgh with the body being brought to the Wise funeral home here where friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening. Rev. J. P. Cordero, First Methodist church pastor here, will officiate at the Monday services.

Schindler Rites Set for Monday

Funeral services for Charles Edward Schindler, 60, who died yesterday in Madison hospital, will be held Monday at 1 p. m. in the Wappner funeral home, with Rev. John C. Melchert officiating.

His survivors include his wife, Pearl, four sons, Wilbert, Starling, Vernon and Leonard; two daughters, Mrs. John Stauffer, and Miss Evelyn Schindler; two grandsons; a brother, William and a sister, Della, all of Mansfield.

City Insurance Man At Annual Conference

William T. McKee, manager of Prudential Insurance company's district office here, is among 400 field managers who will attend the company's annual district agencies business conference in Newark N. J., Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

McKee left today for the conference which is being held to discuss developments in the life insurance business. The three-day meeting will be highlighted by a conference dinner in New York City, Wednesday.

Next year's football team already is practicing.

Thursday, many students and teachers were tardy due to the heavy snow.

The band members, under the direction of Donald Tennant, are practicing for their concert, April 28.

The basketball tournaments held in the gym are drawing near the end. Room 107 is the seventh grade champ. The ninth grade has two games to play to decide the title. Room 101 plays 109 and the winner plays 211. The eighth grade home Room 110 now is leading, but has five more games to play, before the title is decided.

SING IN HAYESVILLE

The ninth grade boys and girls glee clubs will sing at Hayesville, March 21.

The ensemble is composed of Lowell Hess, Tom McCullough, Henry Ragsdale, Dave Nash, Lincoln Atkinson, Don Bernhardt, Bob Voorhis, Harrison Kline and Dick Maxwell.

The seventh grade boys' ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Allen also will make the trip.

Simpson bowlers have divided into four teams of six boys each. The names of the teams are Gutter Cleaners, Pirates, Pin Setters, and the Bulldogs.

The printing classes are printing the constitution of the Times Press club and Good Citizenship awards. Citizenship awards will be made to any student who has been cited five times for a courteous action. The purpose of these awards is to make Simpson students courtesy-minded.

Jack Knight, Times' Art editor, was chairman of the committee which recently wrote the Press club constitution.

A. Lemoine Derr, ninth grade boys and girls glee club director, is in New York City, where he will attend a music directors' school.

Tuesday, Simpson students will be entertained with an evangelistic assembly.

Miss Marilyn Heuss has been appointed as private secretary of W. L. Miller, superintendent of schools, to replace Mrs. Ruth Shambre.

CHANGE FISCAL YEAR

COLUMBUS —(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche yesterday signed into law an emergency act placing the state on a fiscal year beginning July 1.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Sunday, March 13

Sunday's horoscope holds augury of a false move, bad judgment, inertia or other interference disastrously blocking the wheels of progress, already well-established on most promising foundations. Either lack of energy, nervous tension or other static or crystallizing situation could undermine cherished plans. A blundering mind, or obscure reasoning, could be the detrimental influence to upset or permanently thwart desired hopes and wishes. Postpone vital decisions, until the way seems clearer.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be called upon to make important decisions, in which vital issues are at stake. There may be obstacles to be astutely handled, and yet the mentality may be slow, nerves taut or the physical conditions not quite up to the desired mark for clever manipulation. There may be a stubborn development to arrest easy going of plans well on the way. It might be advisable to take a period of rest, relaxation or diversion, so that time may assist in unravelling difficulties. Meantime summon health and marshal all assets and resources tangible as well as mental or spiritual.

A child born on this day, may be handicapped by a feeble or static state of mind and energies. Attention to a physical lack may foster sound and workable mental equipment and initiative.

For Monday, March 14

Monday's astrological forecast indicates that while the ambitions, aspirations and plans seem to encourage an expansive and farreaching development—of scope and magnitude, yet it may be difficult to sidestep blocks, impediments, wrong tactics and limited resources There may be either definite opposition all along the line, or there may be pressures and tensions difficult to whip into constructive channels. Higherups may be laggard on coming across with need of capital or influence Personal relations may explode in some unforeseen manner But in all crises, refrain from forced issues or "fly-off-the-handle" procedures Safeguard all resources, possessions and contacts.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves in a period of frustration, delays, obstruction right in the midst of high promise and hopeful foundations for an expansive, growing and gratifying culmination to well-laid plans with firm foundations for solidarity and long-term prosperity and pleasure. Lack of cooperation, promised support from influential sources together with failure from intimate or family relationships or other close, perhaps romantic understandings is indicated. In all circumstances let calm judgment and wise action prevail as rash or excitable conduct could spell utter defeat and regret.

A child born on this day while ambitious aspiring and well-equipped for a measure of success and happiness, may make rash moves to undermine its prospects

Tygers In Finals After 52-45 Victory

every phase of the game except foul shooting. They couldn't handle the ball, pass or shoot. In fact, from the field Senior high made only five of 26 shots but still led, 23 to 18.

Foul shooting turned the trick as the Bengals made 13 of 16 from the gratis stripe. Fostoria was just the opposite, getting eight field goals but only two of 11 free tosses.

Then in the second half, the Bengals perpetrated a tremendous about face and swished in 13 of 27 shots. All of which made a total of 18 field goals on 53 shots, a very respectable figure.

Fostoria had been a decided darkhorse in the state championship picture. The Redmen knocked off Findlay, defending titlist, in the regular season and then fell before the Trojans, 35 to 32, in the sectional finals last week.

Although Mansfield was in front most of the game, the lead changed hands 11 times before the Tygers took over for good with a bit of shooting wizardry by Slender Jimmy Anderson in the early part of the final quarter. Anderson connected for five straight points to put Mansfield in the van, 44 to 40.

Jim Cotter connected on a fast break for Fostoria but Ed Demyan swished one of his pet pivot shots as the game headed into the final three minutes. Then Paul Ferguson tossed in a two-pointer on a fast break but Fostoria came back to shave the margin to 48-45.

With the clock showing approximately 1:30, the Tygers started stalling. Fostoria adopted a press defense to try to steal the ball but reckoned without Anderson. The six-foot junior twice dribled through the entire Fostoria defense in the last minute to cage a pair of easy bunny shots.

Early in the third quarter it looked as if school was out for the Mansfield cagers. Big Norb Shibinski, the No. 2 scorer, fouled out as Fostoria was in the throes of a seven-point drive to go ahead for the first time since the opening period. The drive put the Redmen in front 31 to 29.

From then on it was a dogfight until Anderson broke loose. Fostoria had held a 38-to-37 advantage at the three-quarter mark. The Redmen never led more than two points.

Early in the game Fostoria moved into a 11-7 lead before a foul shot parade set them back. The Tygers notched eight straight points via the gratis route with Ken McCally getting three, Shibinski two, Demyan two, and Anderson one.

Senior high led at the quarter, 15 to 13, and increased the advantage to 19-13 as Shibinski hit a rebound and Demyan a pivot shot.

Anderson was the game's top scorer with 17 points, while Cotter had 13 to pace Fostoria. McCally counted 12 and Demyan 11 for Coach Vern Hoffman's Bengals.

Bellevue expanded little effort in taking over Whitmer. The Bellevue club led at the intermission points, 21 to 5, 36 to 7, and 41 to 17. Arden Long led the scoring with 14 points, all in the first half.

CITATION NOTICE

The State of Ohio, Richland County. Juvenile Court. Mrs. Peter Slycz, a. k. a. Mrs John Grose (nee Virginia Ann Burger) whose whereabouts is unknown, whose last known address is General Delivery, Gramley St., Norfolk, Virginia, will take notice that the Juvenile Court of Richland County, has issued the following citation

The State of Ohio, Richland County. Juvenile Court.

To Mrs Marjorie M. Comer, Probation Officer of Richland County, Ohio.

Whereas, a complaint, duly verified according to law, has been filed in this Court, that a certain child, to-wit: Nancy Ann Slycz, born Oct 20, 1943, in Troy, New York, appears to be a dependent-neglected child, in that the mother, Virginia Mae Slycz, a. k. a. Mrs. John Grose, after placing the child with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stolle on agreement to pay $5 00 per week, has since failed to properly provide for the said child's welfare.

You are commanded to cite Mrs. Virginia Mae Slycz a. k. a. Mrs. John Grose to personally be and appear and bring the said child before the Juvenile Court at Mansfield, Ohio, on the 29th day of March, 1949, at 9 o'clock a. m.

A person so cited to appear and who fails to do so, may be punished as in other cases for contempt of court.

You will make due return of this writ on the 29th day of March, 1949.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, this 9th day of March, 1949.

20 Get Press Club Awards At Simpson

Presentations Made Following Luncheon

Twenty members of the Simpson Times Press club were entertained by Mrs. Gladys Lane, adviser, at a luncheon Wednesday in the cafeteria. The club members received a gold pin as a writing award. Antina Vaneff, girls sports editor, was responsible for a birthday cake to celebrate the Press club's second anniversary.

Simpson students enjoyed a musical assembly Monday. Jennett and Ferris Robbins played and sang songs from all lands.

Simpson's Junior Red Cross received a thank-you letter from a student in Wurtzberg, Germany. The Junior Red Cross gave all students of Simpson an accident prevention questionaire which they filled out to test their safety I. Q.

Another tax stamp drive to begin March 15.

"Stage Coach" is the movie of the week. Next week, "Turf Boy," will be shown.

Next year's football team already is practicing.

Thursday, many students and teachers were tardy due to the heavy snow.

The band members, under the direction of Donald Tennant, are practicing for their concert, April 28.

The basketball tournaments held in the gym are drawing near the end. Room 107 is the seventh grade champ. The ninth grade has two games to play to decide the title. Room 101 plays 109 and the winner plays 211. The eighth grade home Room 110 now is leading, but has five more games to play, before the title is decided.

SING IN HAYESVILLE

The ninth grade boys and girls glee clubs will sing at Hayesville, March 21.

The ensemble is composed of Lowell Hess, Tom McCullough, Henry Ragsdale, Dave Nash, Lincoln Atkinson, Don Bernhardt, Bob Voorhis, Harrison Kline and Dick Maxwell.

The seventh grade boys' ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Allen also will make the trip.

Simpson bowlers have divided into four teams of six boys each. The names of the teams are Gutter Cleaners, Pirates, Pin Setters, and the Bulldogs.

The printing classes are printing the constitution of the Times Press club and Good Citizenship awards. Citizenship awards will be made to any student who has been cited five times for a courteous action. The purpose of these awards is to make Simpson students courtesy-minded.

Jack Knight, Times' Art editor, was chairman of the committee which recently wrote the Press club constitution.

A. Lemome Derr, ninth grade boys and girls glee club director, is in New York City, where he will attend a music directors' school.

Tuesday, Simpson students will be entertained with an evangelistic assembly.

Miss Marilyn Heuss has been appointed as private secretary of W. L. Miller, superintendent of schools, to replace Mrs. Ruth Shambre.

CHANGE FISCAL YEAR

COLUMBUS —(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche yesterday signed into law an emergency act placing the state on a fiscal year beginning July 1.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Sunday, March 13

Sunday's horoscope holds augury of a false move, bad judgment, inertia or other interference disastrously blocking the wheels of progress, already well-established on most promising foundations. Either lack of energy, nervous tension or other static or crystallizing situation could undermine cherished plans. A blundering mind, or obscure reasoning, could be the detrimental influence to upset or permanently thwart desired hopes and wishes. Postpone vital decisions, until the way seems clearer.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be called upon to make important decisions, in which vital issues are at stake. There may be obstacles to be astutely handled, and yet the mentality may be slow, nerves taut or the physical conditions not quite up to the desired mark for clever manipulation. There may be a stubborn development to arrest easy going of plans well on the way It might be advisable to take a period of rest, relaxation or diversion, so that time may assist in unravelling difficulties. Meantime summon health and marshal all assets and resources tangible as well as mental or spiritual.

A child born on this day, may be handicapped by a feeble or static state of mind and energies. Attention to a physical lack may foster sound and workable mental equipment and initiative.

For Monday, March 14

Monday's astrological forecast indicates that while the ambitions, aspirations and plans seem to encourage an expansive and farreaching development—of scope and magnitude, yet it may be difficult to sidestep blocks, impediments, wrong tactics and limited resources. There may be either definite opposition all along the line, or there may be pressures and tensions difficult to whip into constructive channels. Higherups may be laggard on coming across with need of capital or influence. Personal relations may explode in some unforeseen manner But in all crises, refrain from forced issues or "fly-off-the-handle" procedures. Safeguard all resources, possessions and contacts

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves in a period of frustration, delays, obstruction right in the midst of high promise and hopeful foundations for an expansive, growing and gratifying culmination to well-laid plans with firm foundations for solidarity and long-term prosperity and pleasure. Lack of cooperation, promised support from influential sources together with failure from intimate or family relationships or other close, perhaps romantic understandings is indicated. In all circumstances let calm judgment and wise action prevail as rash or excitable conduct could spell utter defeat and regret.

A child born on this day while ambitious, aspiring and well-equipped for a measure of success and happiness, may make rash moves to undermine its prospects

Finds $10 Bill But $500 More Missing

UPPER SANDUSKY — (INS) — Upper Sandusky police searched today for clues in the $500 robbery of the Wyandot Auto club office.

The robbery was discovered by Robert G. Hetzel when he noticed a $10 bill lying on the floor as he opened the office. The money apparently was dropped by the thieves as they fled.

Draft Evasion Trial Ending

TOLEDO — (INS) — The case of Larry Gara, Bluffton college history instructor accused of violating the Selective Service act, is scheduled to go the jury Monday in Toledo Federal Court.

Both prosecuting and defense attorneys wound up their cases late yesterday before court was adjourned for the weekend.

Gara, a 27-year-old quaker, testified yesterday that he was obeying a "higher law" in advising Bluffton students not to register for peacetime selective service.

Miles to Assist In 'Y' Canoe Trip

Roy R. Miles, 95 West Third street, has been chosen to assist in leadership in the YMCA Canadian canoe trip July 26 to Aug. 9. Miles has been active in youth work for several years, Maurice W. Taylor, "Y" general secretary, said today.

Directing the project will be Robert Y. Davis, Johnny Appleseed teacher. Davis headed the 225 mile "man-making" Canadian Northwoods trip last year when the 22 boys who went on the route visited the Canadian National exposition, Toronto, and Niagara Falls as well as the north woods.

Gets 'Mixed Up,' Sent to Prison

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A 21-year-old Pittsburgh youth who came to Columbus looking for a job, began a 10-to-25 year sentence at Mansfield reformatory today for four holdups in which he held a knife at his victims' throats.

Harold M. Lee pleaded guilty in Franklin county criminal court saying: "Somehow I got all mixed up."

Tygers In Finals After 52-45 Victory

every phase of the game except foul shooting. They couldn't handle the ball, pass or shoot. In fact, from the field Senior high made only five of 26 shots but still led, 23 to 18.

Foul shooting turned the trick as the Bengals made 13 of 16 from the gratis stripe. Fostoria was just the opposite, getting eight field goals but only two of 11 free tosses.

Then in the second half, the Bengals perpetrated a tremendous about face and swished in 13 of 27 shots. All of which made a total of 18 field goals on 53 shots, a very respectable figure.

Fostoria had been a decided darkhorse in the state championship picture. The Redmen knocked off Findlay, defending titlist, in the regular season and then fell before the Trojans, 35 to 32, in the sectional finals last week.

Although Mansfield was in front most of the game, the lead changed hands 11 times before the Tygers took over for good with a bit of shooting wizardry by Slender Jimmy Anderson in the early part of the final quarter. Anderson connected for five straight points to put Mansfield in the van, 44 to 40.

Jim Cotter connected on a fast break for Fostoria but Ed Demyan swished one of his pet pivot shots as the game headed into the final three minutes. Then Paul Ferguson tossed in a two-pointer on a fast break but Fostoria came back to shave the margin to 48-45.

With the clock showing approximately 1:30, the Tygers started stalling. Fostoria adopted a press defense to try to steal the ball but reckoned without Anderson. The six-foot junior twice dribled through the entire Fostoria defense in the last minute to cage a pair of easy bunny shots.

Early in the third quarter it looked as if school was out for the Mansfield cagers. Big Norb Shibinski, the No. 2 scorer, fouled out as Fostoria was in the throes of a seven-point drive to go ahead for the first time since the opening period. The drive put the Redmen in front 31 to 29.

From then on it was a dogfight until Anderson broke loose. Fostoria had held a 38-to-37 advantage at the three-quarter mark. The Redmen never led more than two points.

Early in the game Fostoria moved into a 11-7 lead before a foul shot parade set them back. The Tygers notched eight straight points via the gratis route with Ken McCally getting three, Shibinski two, Demyan two, and Anderson one.

Senior high led at the quarter, 15 to 13, and increased the advantage to 19-13 as Shibinski hit a rebound and Demyan a pivot shot.

Anderson was the game's top scorer with 17 points, while Cotter had 13 to pace Fostoria. McCally counted 12 and Demyan 11 for Coach Vern Hoffman's Bengals.

Bellevue expanded little effort in taking over Whitmer. The Bellevue club led at the intermission points, 21 to 5, 36 to 7, and 41 to 17. Arden Long led the scoring with 14 points, all in the first half.

C. E. BELVILLE

NEW LONDON — C. E. Belville, 80, New London's oldest grocer, died at his East Main street home at 5 p. m. Friday after suffering a heart attack Tuesday. Mr. Belville was a lifelong resident here and had operated the same store he opened here in 1894.

Services will be at 2:30 p. m. Sunday from the Fitch funeral home here with Rev. William H. Mitchell, First Methodist church pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Grove street cemetery.

★

CARTER MILLER

ASHLAND—Rites will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Denbow-Bear funeral home here for Carter Miller, 59, of 27 High street, who died suddenly Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Hickman, in West Palm Beach, Fla. where he and Mrs. Miller were visiting. A life resident of Ashland, Mr. Miller had retired from business several years ago because of ill health.

Mr. Miller was a former employe of the Eagle Rubber company and the state highway department. He was a member fof Trinity Lutheran church and the Elks lodge. In addition to his widow and daughter Mr. Miller leaves a sister, Mrs. Ted S. Brindle, of Ashland.

The body will arrive here Sunday. Rev. Harold H. Lentz, Tinity Lutheran pastor, will officiate at Tuesday's rites. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday night.

★

MRS. MARY COLUMBUS

GALION — Mrs. Mary L. Columbus, 89, native of Canada who came here 86 years ago, died suddenly at 6 p. m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sachs with whom she lived at 137 South street.

Services will be held at 9 a. m. Monday in St. Patrick church of which she was a member, with Rev. John P. Bruin, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary cemetery. Friend may call after 7 p. m. today at the Snyder funeral home here.

HAZEL BOWMAN

PERRYSVILLE — Hazel Bowman, 54, lifelong resident here and for many years a telephone operator, died suddenly at 4 p. m. Friday in the home of Mrs. E. A. Beavers. Surviving are a son, Ted of Perrysville; mother, Mrs Mary Ann Bowman of Perrysville; three brothers, Carl of San Francisco, Ray of Ashland and Ralph of Perrysville, and five sisters, Mrs. Frank Bowie of Ashland, Mrs. Kenneth Fox of Marion, Mrs. Howard Butler of Perrysville, Mrs. Richard Sponsler of Mansfield and Miss Nellie Bowman of Mansfield. She was a member of the Presbyterian church here.

Rites will be at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Presbyterian church with Pastor Lena Jennings officiating. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery. Friends may call at the mother's home here Sunday morning after the body is returned from the Byerly funeral home in Lucas.

CITATION NOTICE

The State of Ohio, Richland County. Juvenile Court. Mrs. Peter Slycz, a. k. a. Mrs. John Grose (nee Virginia Ann Burger) whose whereabouts is unknown, whose last known address is General Delivery, Gramley St., Norfolk, Virginia, will take notice that the Juvenile Court of Richland County, has issued the following citation:

The State of Ohio, Richland County. Juvenile Court.

To Mrs. Marjorie M. Comer, Probation Officer of Richland County, Ohio.

Whereas, a complaint, duly verified according to law, has been filed in this Court, that a certain child, to-wit: Nancy Ann Slycz, born Oct. 20, 1943, in Troy, New York, appears to be a dependent-neglected child, in that the mother, Virginia Mae Slycz, a. k. a. Mrs. John Grose, after placing the child with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stolle on agreement to pay $5.00 per week, has since failed to properly provide for the said child's welfare.

You are commanded to cite Mrs. Virginia Mae Slycz, a. k. a. Mrs. John Grose to personally be and appear and bring the said child before the Juvenile Court at Mansfield, Ohio, on the 29th day of March, 1949, at 9 o'clock a. m.

A person so cited to appear and who fails to do so, may be punished as in other cases for contempt of court.

You will make due return of this writ on the 29th day of March, 1949.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, this 9th day of March, 1949.

S. H. CRAMER
Judge and ex-officio Clerk of the Juvenile Court.

QUEER BUSINESS, EH? THAT GIRL DIED EXACTLY TWO WEEKS BEFORE SHE WAS SLATED TO MARRY STUART BEAUMONT!
IT MUST HAVE BEEN A GREAT TRAGEDY TO HIM... ANYWAY, THE CORONER GAVE EVERYBODY A CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH.
DES, I DON'T LIKE IT! THESE CLIPS SHOW STUART WAS ENGAGED TO FIVE DIFFERENT GIRLS. HE JILTED FOUR OF THEM, AND ONE DIED MYSTERIOUSLY. APPARENTLY MRS. BEAUMONT IS DETERMINED NOT TO SEE HIM MARRIED! WHY?
THEY SAY THERE IS ONLY ONE ROOT OF ALL EVIL, SIR...
MONEY! MAYBE YOU'VE GOT SOMETHING! THEY SAY OLD GENERAL BEAUMONT WAS WORTH FORTY MILLIONS... HE MUST HAVE LEFT A WILL... I WONDER..

BRICK BRADFORD

WELL, THERE GO THE POLICE WITH FACET AND HIS GANG! I ALMOST YAWN WHEN I THINK OF THE STRETCH THEY'LL HAVE TO DO!
AND NOW I GUESS IT'S OUR TURN TO BID THE THORN VALLEY GOODBY!

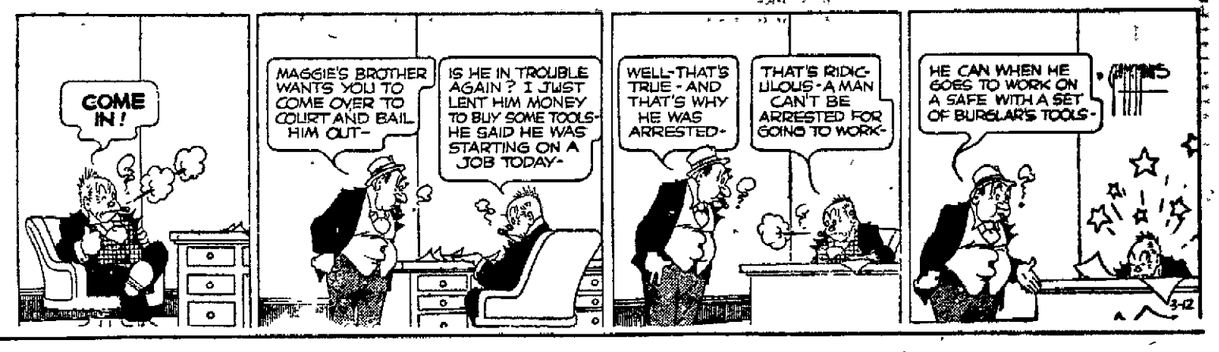
LOIS SAID YOU WERE OUT WITH HER LAST NIGHT!
SURE! WHAT'S WRONG WITH THAT?
WELL, I THINK A BOY FRIEND SHOULD BE LOYAL TO ME...
... AND NOT DATE ANY OTHER GIRLS.
THAT'S WHAT I LIKE ABOUT BRUZ AND DOODIE.

IGGS



COME IN!
MAGGIE'S BROTHER WANTS YOU TO COME OVER TO COURT AND BAIL HIM OUT—
IS HE IN TROUBLE AGAIN? I JUST LENT HIM MONEY TO BUY SOME TOOLS— HE SAID HE WAS STARTING ON A JOB TODAY—
WELL—THAT'S TRUE—AND THAT'S WHY HE WAS ARRESTED—
THAT'S RIDICULOUS—A MAN CAN'T BE ARRESTED FOR GOING TO WORK—
HE CAN WHEN HE GOES TO WORK ON A SAFE WITH A SET OF BURGLAR'S TOOLS—

YES, A DROP OF WATER AGAINST THE OCEAN!!

THE GUMPS

PROFESSOR MOOSEYE! DON'T YOU REALIZE THE WORLD-SHAKING POSSIBILITIES OF HYPNOTISM?! WHY, TAKE THE CASE OF TILDA, FOR INSTANCE...
AH, A CHARMING GIRL..
JUST WHAT I MEAN.. YOU HAVE CHANGED THAT CYNICAL OLD BATTLE-AX INTO A SWEET AND KINDLY SOUL— IF YOU CAN DO THAT FOR ONE PERSON, YOU CAN DO IT FOR ALL PEOPLE!
MY FRIEND... THERE ARE OVER TWO THOUSAND MILLION PEOPLE ON EARTH— IT WOULD BE UTTERLY IMPOSSIBLE FOR ME IN MY LIFE SPAN, TO GET AROUND TO THAT MANY PEOPLE..
EXACTLY, PROFESSOR.. THAT'S WHY I AM LEARNING THE ART OF HYPNOTISM.. IT'S A TWO-MAN JOB!

THE NEBS

WHAT IS THIS... BUFFALO MEAT? I CAN'T GET THE KNIFE THROUGH IT!
THE BUTCHER ASSURED ME IT WAS AGED SIRLOIN AND IT LOOKED SO GOOD I BELIEVED HIM
TING LING A-LING
ISN'T THIS THE SIRLOIN STEAK I BOUGHT TODAY, RUTH?
NO, MRS. NEBB, IT'S THE ROUND STEAK
BUT I GOT THE ROUND STEAK FOR YOUR DOG, THE SIRLOIN WAS FOR US!
I KNOW, BUT AUGGIE'S TEETH AIN'T SO GOOD AND I THOUGHT YOU WOULDN'T MIND IF I GAVE HIM THE SIRLOIN!

SUPERMAN

OF COURSE I CAN BREAK OUT ANY TIME I WISH, BUT I WOULDN'T FLOUT THE LAW ANYMORE THAN THAT CONSTABLE. WHAT'S MORE, I HAVE TO ADMIRE HIS INCORRUPTIBLE SENSE OF DUTY...
WHILE AT THE AMOSVILLE HOTEL...
AIN'T NO MORE ROOMS LEFT, BUT MEBBE I KIN SET UP SOME MATTRESSES IN THE COW-SHED.
WELL — IF IT AIN'T SAM SNIDE FROM THE NASHVILLE EAGLE. BEEN OVER TO THE JAIL YET?
WELL, PRISSY— LOOKS GOOD, EH?
GET YER SOOPERMAN BALLOONS HERE—
HOW YOU KNEW SUPERMAN WOULD BE ARRESTED, I'LL NEVER KNOW. BUT DO YOU CALL ALL THIS ROWDY COMMERCIALISM AND THESE IDLE CURIOSITY SEEKERS GOOD? HMPH!

Penn Auto, Shelby Gump's Reach Gold Medal Finals

Classy Cage Field Heads Into Regional Meets

Redmen, One to Pay Back

By RALPH POSTLEWAITE

An elated Vern Hoffman joined a noisy, jubilant group of Senior high Tygers following their victory over Fostoria last night and called for quiet. The dressing room bedlam subsided.

"One to pay back tomorrow night." And with that cryptic remark the Mansfield coach summed up the last hurdle the Tygers must clear to pick up a pass to the Toledo regional.

When queried on the brand of ball displayed by Fostoria, Vern was a little more loquacious.

"They're as tough a ball club as we've played anywhere this year," he admitted. "And as for our play, our floor game was good in the first half, but the boys were off their shooting game."

Asked for a prediction on the outcome of the titular scrap with Bellevue tonight, he was more noncommittal. "One at a time," he sparred, "and if we're playing ball we'll go to Toledo."

RESPECT PASTORIOUS

The Tygers showed respect for the Fostoria club, particularly big Ray Pastorious, the Redmen's 6-4 center.

Rugged Ed Demyan and Big Norb Shibinski, who divided chores watching over the Fostoria pivot man, both sang his praises. "And the Fostoria team is plenty good," they added.

Jimmy Anderson and Ken McCally both described their first round opponents as "tough," and little "Pinky" Ferguson, speaking of his own ball club, figured that "we weren't playing our best ball, but I'm glad we got it out of our system and still won."

"Lanky Ed Schmitt, who fashioned himself a whale of a ball game after replacing Shibinski in the third quarter, thought less highly of the Fostoria quintet. "We've played tougher clubs," he decided. And that remark is a tribute to the brand of ball he played.

There's an interesting sidelight to the tournament play of the Tygers through the sectional and into this first round of district warfare. It can be summed up by saying that it's open season for the Bengals on Redmen!!

REDMEN SCALPINGS

Count out the Redmen of Bucyrus, who fell before a magnificent Tyger five in the finals of the sectional. Scratch a stubborn quintet of Redmen from Fostoria, who were clawed last night by the sharp-shooting second half foray of our Bengal five. And tonight?

It's the Redmen of Bellevue. And in the words of Vern Hoffman . . . "one to pay back" . . . ????

Davis, Picture Star Vacation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., — (AP) — Former West Point football star Glenn Davis, now a first Lieutenant, has cast aside official duties to begin a two weeks vacation with his pretty girl friend, movie actress Elizabeth Taylor.

Davis, half of the Army's famed Blanchard and Davis backfield team, side-stepped newsmen's questions about marriage, but the welcome he received from the vivacious young actress indicated they were more than just friends.

It was reported he had brought an engagement ring with him.

Davis returned from Korea to participate in a basketball tournament.

Insurance, Grocers 5's Are Beaten

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods and Shelby Gumps advanced to the finals of the Gold Medal basketball tournament last night by turning back a pair of pre-tournament favorites in convincing fashion at Johnny Appleseed junior high gym.

Eliminated were Urschel Insurance, 40-28, by Penn Auto, and Frankie Mitsch's, 46-42, by Gump's.

LEAD FULL GAME

Both winners led all the way as they had little trouble with their highly-touted opponents. Mitsch's, which had swept through the American league schedule undefeated, trailed at the periods, 16-10, 28-22, and 38-29. Ed. Vanderbilt was the big gun in this contest with 19 points for Shelby.

Penn Auto led only 17-13 in the other game at the half but piled up its margin in the last two periods.

Finals will be played next Monday on the Appleseed court. Trophy for both the winning and losing team will be presented as well as gold basketballs to the consolation winner. Mitsch's and Urschel's meet in the consolation tilt.

The City league All-Stars will meet the Willard All-Stars on the third game of the program.

Unseeded Teams Battle In First Round of Meet

NEW YORK —(INS)— The unseeded "dark horses" of the national invitation basketball tournament trot onto the Madison Square Garden court today for first-round games in the expanded 12-team tournament.

With the first of two afternoon games getting underway at 3:30 p. m., the first-round program read as follows:

Loyola of Chicago (22-5) vs. CCNY (17-7).

Bradley (25-6) vs NYU (12-7).

Bowling Green (21-6) vs. St. John's (15-8).

San Francisco (21-5) vs. Manhattan (18-7).

The latter half of that program begins at 8 p. m.

The wagering favored early elimination of all four New York entries.

Whoever the winners might be today, they move against the four seeded tournament teams Monday afternoon and night.

Detroit Pitcher Battles for Life

LAKELAND, Fla., — (UP) — Pitcher Art Houtteman of the Detroit Tigers, who never gave up on the baseball diamond despite a steady string of hard luck, battled gamely for his life today against a fractured skull suffered in an automobile accident.

A midnight bulletin from the hospital reported Houtteman still in "poor" condition, although doctors had noted a slight improvement in his condition earlier in the day and said there was definite hope for his recovery.

MISSES CONNECTIONS—Big Norb Shibinski, Mansfield center, outjumps Ray Pastorious, Fostoria, for a rebound but the ball hit the rim and popped out. The play happened in the first quarter of the district tournament battle at Sandusky with the score knotted, 7 to 7. Mansfield went on to win, 52 to 45. Others: Ken McCally (21) and Ed Demyan (19), both of Mansfield and Carlos Jackson (31) and Don Rhude (37) of Fostoria.

Swimley Posts Lone 600 In Friday Pin Pounding

Only one man in five leagues skidded over the 600 line on Mansfield bowling lanes last night.

Standing alone on the pedestal was Harry Swimley who blasted his way home with 179-252-178—609 while competing in the Moose league at Colony.

Runner-up and 12 pins behind was Bill Young who chopped wood for a 597 count. Bill Trisler rolled 584, John Holda tossed 581 and R. Curran came in with 573. Other scores in the loop included—John Papcun, 572; Tony Santora and George Gump, 558; John Bernat and Nick Komjenovich, 556; and E. Jacobs, 554.

G. McKinley was the hard-luck man of the night with games of 203 and 193 following a very weak 109.

★

Undoubtedly the most inconsistent performance was rolled by Kate Herf of All-States Freight in the Women's Commercial B. She started off with the top single game of the league, 235, and then fell all the way to 113 and 123 in the final two counts.

Three-game honors went to Helen Wilhelm who put together games of 185, 194, and 172 for a 551 series. Four others were in the 500 zone. Mary McMullen, Flo Handwork and Thelma Cox, all of Ingram Martin, had 537, 518 and 507. Billie Cleckner, rolling with Gay Nineties, posted 502.

League-leading Gay Nineties swept three games from Home Interiors while Lustre Ease Cleaners took three from Saprano's Bar.

★

Three teammates took down a good share of the honors in the Independent league. Tom Letizia had 181-146-248—575, S. Mansfield, 63-200-191—554 and Dave Karbula, 182-159-167—508.

Others: Don Backman, 543; Dick Noblet, 539 and Coonie Neidhammer, 538 Neidhammer had a 237 and Backman 211.

★

Lead in Westinghouse D league went to Komjenovich with 187-205-178—570. J. Bader was second with 179-173-197—549.

Others: P. Brown and Luendland, 546; R. Russell, 541; Hoffman, 537 and R. Page, 524. Hoffman had a 210. E. Taylor was consistent with games of 150, 150 and 151.

★

In Barnes league bowling, Nick Loris topped the men with 200-197-160—557, while two women tied with 469's. They were L. Rudolph and A. Ballengee. M. Roof was third with 448.

Other men over 500 were: Rudolph, 551 and N. Longshore, 517.

City Tourney, Benefit Spark Pin Program

Opening of the Women's City bowling tournament and a Heart fund benefit will share the spotlight on Mansfield lanes today.

Twelve teams are to get the annual three week-end women's meet underway at the Colony while a pair of special matches are rolled at Richland Recreation.

The Millers Hi-Life team of Milwaukee is to meet Mansfield city tournament champion Baku Grotto this afternoon and Kozak's local High Life combine at 7 p. m. tonight, in the benefit.

The local team is composed of Win, Dale, and Leroy Cleckner, Gene Rudolph, Fred Tonnemacher, and Joe Collander.

A dance tonight and movies of last fall's Notre-Dame-Northwestern football game will round out the program. Lou Rymkus, Cleveland Brown and ex-Notre Dame tackle, will show the movies.

Lefty Star Hurls Today For Indians

TUCSON, Ariz.—(AP)—Gene Bearden, the world champion Cleveland Indians' ace left hander, goes to the hill today as the Tribe opens its 38-game exhibition schedule against the New York Giants.

Opposing Bearden will be righthander Larry Jensen, bellwether of the Giants' staff for the past three seasons.

Included in an announced starting lineup for the Tribe are three rookies. Herman Reich, 1b, will bat sixth followed by Shortstop Ray Boone and Catcher Ray Murray.

Among the veterans in the lineup will be leadoff man Dale Mitchell, lf, Hal Peck, rf, Larry Doby, cf, Joe Gordon, 2b, and Kenny Keltner, 3b. Mike Garcia and Sam Zoldak are scheduled to see action on the mound in support of Bearden.

JUST TWO ROOKS

Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants previously said his lineup, with the exception of rookie Second Baseman Bob Hoffman and newcomer Bill Jennings at shortstop, would be composed of veterans.

The progress of First Baseman Mickey Vernon, recuperating slowly from an appendicitis operation, also brought cheer to the Indian camp.

Vernon took his first strenuous workout around first base and looked smooth and quick in taking throws from Kenny Keltner and Joe Gordon.

Sutter's Five Rolls to Easy Tourney Win

Four more teams fell by the wayside in the second day of play of the Friendly House junior tournament yesterday, cutting the field to nine teams.

Sutter's established itself as one of the favorites yesterday by overwhelming Collins Grocery, 67-37. Stan Schneider set a hot pace for his mates with 28 points.

In other games, the North Side Juniors beat Main Cigar store, 39-33, Frank's Grocery upset the Catholic Foresters, 31-25, and Grace Gospel edged the Junior Optimists, 31-30. Nelson Price scored the winning bucket for Grace Gospel with 30 seconds left to play.

Findlay Eliminates Bucyrus, 49 to 26

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS—One of the classiest fields in history is headed into Ohio's high school regional basketball tournaments.

Finals in the district meets will be completed tonight, sending 16 Class A and 16 Class B squads into regional play, from which four in each division will emerge for the state finals here March 24, 25 and 26.

Six Class A teams, and four in Class B, already have earned regional positions in early-closing district play.

Two teams in each division remain unbeaten, Garfield Heights (22) and Lakewood (17) in Class A, and Salem Twp. of Wyandot county (26) and Conesville (24) in Class B. Four Class A teams have been toppled only once, as have five in Class B.

The once-defeated Class A clubs are Columbus Central (24), Hamilton Public (21), Dayton Dunbar (17) and Cleveland Central (13). In Class B Lockland Wayne, Scio, Midvale and Junction City have dropped one of 26, while New Lexington has lost one of 22.

At least two of the once-beaten Class B clubs must fall out of the tourney tonight as Scio and Midvale meet in the finals at Dennison, and New Lexington and Junction City clash at Athens.

FINDLAY ROMPS

Findlay, defending Class A champ, rolled to its 19th win in 21 starts last night with a 49-26 win over Bucyrus, but faces a rugged Toledo Catholic quintet (22-3) in tonight's finals.

A half-dozen of last year's 16 Class A regionalists are still in there trying. All but Columbus Central, which clinched its berth last night, have tough chores tonight. With a chance to repeat from last year as district champions are Canton South, Cleveland Heights, Portsmouth, Findlay and Bowling Green.

Coshocton, one of last year's state finalists, was swept aside last night by New Philadelphia, 45 to 43, as Dave Leggett's field goal in the last 10 seconds gave the 1940 state champs the verdict. Coshocton was ahead 15-3 at the quarter, 22-14 at the half, 37-26 at the three-quarter mark, and then succumbed to a 19-point surge in the last eight minutes.

Coshocton's defeat leaves only Canton South and Findlay of last year's state finalists in the big league, while only North Canton of the four Class B regional champs remains.

COURT ODDITY

Among the tournament oddities was the record of Columbus Aquinas. The Catholic school had two victories and 19 defeats for the regular season, finishing last in the City league without a victory. Then it blazed into the central district tourney and won upset victories over Washington C. H. and Upper Arlington, before bowing to Delaware Willis in the semi-finals.

Last night, in the consolation game, Aquinas won over Newark's Wildcats, three-time state champs So the Irish, last in their own league, wound up third in the 19-team district tourney, in which they won more games than during the regular 21-game campaign.

Cooper-Alexander Duo Is In Semis

MIAMI, Fla., — (UP) — Skip Alexander and Pete Cooper went into the semi-finals of the annual Miami Four-Ball Golf tournament today.

Alexander, who hails from Southern Pines, N C., and Cooper, his partner from Ponte Verda, Fla., chipped and putted like champions yesterday as they downed Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, 2 and 1, in the second round.

Akron, Kent State Battle for Crown

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — Akron and Kent State will clash tonight in the championship game of the first Ohio conference invitational tournament at Wittenberg college.

Ohio Wesleyan and Mount Union will meet for consolation honors.

In last night's games, the Zippers defeated Ohio Wesleyan 57 to 54, while Kent State downed Mount Union 54 to 47

Pro Wrestling Show Listed For Tonight

Three matches tonight will mark the return of professional wrestling to Mansfield.

The first local program in two years will get underway at the armory at 8:30 p. m. with a pair of gal grapplers holding the spotlight. Violet Viann, St. Louis, and Dot Dotson, DesMoines, are the gals who will mix hair pulling and eye gouging with occasional bits of wrestling. They will go in the two of three fall semi-final bout.

BEAUTY AND BEAST

The villain and beauty act will get an overtime engagement in the finale. Whitey Whittler, the Holland wildman, is one of the most jeered matmen while his opponent, Larry Kasaboski, is the cleaner type of fellow in the ring. They will battle in the one-hour finale.

Stacy Hall, an old favorite with Mansfield fans, meets Pancho Valentino, Mexico City, in the opener.

Clete Kauffman is promoting the Mansfield shows which are scheduled every Saturday at the armory.

Salem Basketball Team Wins 27th In Tourney Play

BUCYRUS — Salem high of Wyandot county will go after its 27th straight victory of the season against Sandusky St. Mary's in the finals of the Bucyrus district tournament at 8 p. m. here tonight.

Salem ripped through Attica, 57-35, and St. Mary's eliminated Sycamore, 42-38, in semi-final games last night. Both winners led all the way.

Scoring honors for the night went to Junior Lundy of the defeated Sycamore quintet who had 16 points. Rich Koch of St. Mary's had 15.

Jim Stief and R. Walker pumped in 13 each for Salem while Center Gene Binau collected 12.

Steve Belloise Wins On TKO

NEW YORK — (UP) —Semibald Steve Belloise went after skinny J. T. Ross last night like a guy trying to knock the gold ball off a flagpole and he belted Jaytee into such helplessness that the referee stopped the bout in the fifth round.

Ross of San Jose, Calif., — the world's tallest middleweight — made a hit in the second round of his Madison Square Garden debut. He hit the the deck like a blown-down mast when shorter Belloise leaped into the air and banged him with portside and starboard hooks to the head. Jaytee rose in sections at the count of eight.

That was the only knockdown of the scheduled 10-round bout before 12,168 fans.

25 Churches Sponsor Series of Evangelistic Services

Meetings Open Sunday At School

Program to Continue For Three Weeks

A series of evangelistic services sponsored by 25 Mansfield churches will open tomorrow night in the Johnny Appleseed auditorium.

In preparation for the opening rally, church representatives will attempt to visit every home in Mansfield Sunday to invite attendance at the meetings. Rev. Charles L. Shook is chairman of the campaign committee.

Evangelist for the series of meetings will be Rev. Jack Shuler who has just completed an evangelistic program in Lima. With him will be Les Darnett, pianist, and after the first few nights, J. Stratton Shufelt, who was in Mansfield last spring with Dr. R. A. Wells.

DIRECTS MUSIC

Harry Clark, famed Welsh soloist and song leader, who has been with Dr. Wells in Cleveland for the past three weeks, will fill the post of director of music until Shufelt closes a campaign in California and comes here.

A choir of 100 voices will sing each night of the three-week series which closes April 3. Henry Senert of the First United Presbyterian church has been organizing the choir for the past week. It will be made up of representatives of each of the participating churches.

Monday night will be Sunday school night to the auditorium. Each Sunday school is expected to send a delegation to the meeting. The largest delegation will receive an award.

During each week of the series, additional services will be held from noon until 12:50 Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the First United Presbyterian church.

Lenten Rites In Spotlight

Pastors Continue Sermon Series

Lenten services will continue through the coming week as pastors present the third in their series of pre-Easter sermons, either Wednesday or Thursday evenings. For some of the churches, mid-week services will give way to the general evangelistic meetings at the Johnny Appleseed auditorium.

At the St. John's church, Rev. J. C. Melchert will preach on the theme, "The Third Word of the Cross." Rev. John G. Gensel will present a third dissertation on "The Lord's Prayer," using as his subject, "Thy Kingdom Come."

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, will speak at the St. Matthew's Lutheran church at 7:30 p. m. The pastor, Dr. Charles F. Sheriff, will preside.

These services will be held on Wednesday evening. Next Thursday evening six Mansfield churches will consider the theme of Lent.

At the First Lutheran church, Rev. Mitchell will preach about "The Blue Sky," the third of a series on Martin Luther's insignia. Dr. Herbert S. Garnes has chosen the subject, "For Christ or Against Him."

"The Blessed Life" is the theme selected by Rev. Willard J. Shawk for the service at the Main Street Evangelical UB church. It will be followed by a meeting of the council of administration. At the St. Mark's Lutheran, the congregation will hear the story of the hymn, "There is a Fountain Filled With Blood."

Dr. W. M. Taylor at the Park Avenue Baptist church will speak on another phase of the topic, "That They May Have Understanding."

At the Mayflower Congregational, Rev. A. F. Lindbeck will preach at 7 p. m.

Legion to Meet

McVey post, American Legion, will have a meeting dedicated to membership boosters Wednesday at the Legion home 126 Park avenue west. The post's membership now totals 1400.

SING SUNDAY

A group of Mansfield singers, calling themselves "The Seven Seals", will sing spirituals at the 7 p. m. meeting of the Luther League of the St. Paul's Lutheran church tomorrow.

Jesus Ministers to Human Needs — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Mark 5; 6:31-44; Luke 7:18-23; 19:1-10.

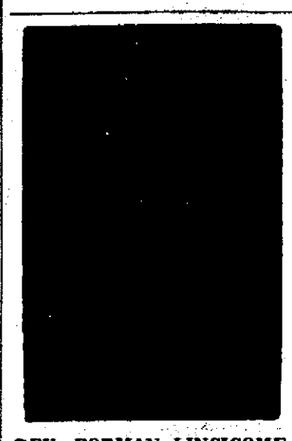
A man possessed of a violent spirit—a menace to others—came to Jesus for help. Jesus cast out the evil spirit, and when other evil spirits gathered, He cast them into a herd of swine which ran into the sea and drowned.

Jairus, one of the rulers of the synagogue, came to Jesus saying his little daughter was ill, and asking Jesus to go to her. Before they could get to Jairus' home, word came that she had died, but Jesus raised her up.

On His way to heal Jairus' daughter, the crowd about Jesus was so dense that a sick woman could only take hold of His robe, but Jesus, asking who touched Him, she fell at His feet and told Him, and was healed.

Passing through Jericho, a man of low stature wanted to see the Lord, so he climbed into a tree, but Jesus, looking up at him, said, "Come down, for today I must abide at thy house."

MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 6:11.



REV. FORMAN LINCICOME

★

Services To Continue

Rev. Forman Lincicime of Gary, Ind., who has been conducting revival services at the Church of the Nazarene this week, will continue the services through Sunday, March 20.

Music for the services is being provided by Prof. and Mrs. Gerald Moore of the Olivet Nazarene college, School of Music, who not only sing special numbers but lead congregation singing.

Rev. A. H. Perry, pastor of the church, who presides at the meetings, says they are open to the public.

Rev. Lincicome will preach tonight on the "Second Coming of Christ."

Youth Wins Probation

One of two Shelby youths, accused of stealing a pair of fender skirts from a car at a filling station last Feb. 17, was committed to the Boy's Industrial school yesterday in juvenile court.

The commitment was suspended on condition of good behavior and he was put on probation for two years A 16-year-old boy charged with a similar offense, was placed on probation for one year.

Both had been in juvenile court for previous offenses, the first for truancy and violation of probationary terms.

A 15-year-old Mansfield youth was warned by the court he might be sent to the Boys' Industrial school, after he confessed to being truant. He was warned and ordered to be in school regularly.

Herring Rites Set Monday

Funeral services for George W. Herring, 79, former Mansfielder who was associated with the Herring Motor company here, will be held at the Jones Memorial at 10 a. m. Monday, in charge of Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First English Lutheran church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Employes of the Herring Motor company and members of Elks lodge No. 56 will serve as pallbearers.

Mr. Herring died at his home in St. Petersburg, Fla., Wednesday His body will arrive here Sunday and friends may call at the funeral home, beginning Sunday noon.

Rotarians to See Picture Tuesday

A motion picture entitled "In Balance" will be shown at next Tuesday's Rotary club meeting, to be held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 11:45 a. m.

The film was made for the Burroughs Adding Machine company and will be presented by Wendell H. Oswalt, who is associated with the Mansfield office of that company. James Clark will be program chairman.

Shiloh Baptist Auditorium Completed

Build Church On 'Pay-As-You-Go' Plan

By NITA BRANSON

Seven years ago the Shiloh Baptist church adopted a "pay-as-you-go" program in the construction of a new church at East Second street and Willis avenue.

The plan has enabled the congregation to build a $30,000 church with an indebtedness of only $2,800.

Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the church, came to Mansfield in 1941. At that time, the church was housed in a building 18 by 36 feet on Wayne street, worth about $3,000. There was an indebtedness against the church of $1,812 and the membership totaled only 86 persons.

Today the new church home is ready and plans now are under way for Sunday school and recreation rooms at the rear. The foundation has been built for the addition. Membership of the church now totals 280 and there is a choir of 24 voices.

"We want it understood that these recreation rooms on the second floor are to be for the children of the community," Rev. Payne said. "Regardless of race or creed, we must save the young people and keep Mansfield a clean city. These recreation rooms will be our contribution toward that goal."

SEEKING FUNDS

However, if the church is to keep to its pay-as-you-go basis, money must be forthcoming. Last year an appeal was made through the other Mansfield churches for funds, and the Shiloh Baptist choir gave concerts in return for these funds. However, only $487.94 was obtained through this means.

"We are asking help in completing our building, so that we might carry out our expanded program of recreation for our young people," Rev. Payne said.

During the June Daily Vacation Bible school period each summer, the Shiloh Baptist church accepts a school for a two-week period.

Since the school was established there four years ago, Mrs. John Davis has supervised the teaching staff of volunteer workers.

NEARLY PAID FOR — The Shiloh Baptist church, financed almost entirely on a "pay-as-you-go" basis, has a debt of only $2,800. Members are asking for contributions to pay off this debt and for Sunday school and recreation rooms to be built at at the rear. Rev. A. J. Payne is pastor.

"The attendance and efficiency of our Bible school during vacation has been most gratifying and we hope again to open our church for this purpose this summer," Rev. Payne declared.

"That's one reason we want to get the Sunday school and recreation rooms completed. We hope to hold the Bible school in these rooms, which will be 36 by 40 feet and ample for the program."

Superintendent of the Sunday school is Verdell Larson. Deacons include James Watson, Allen Cline jr., J. D. Burrell, Cicero Lucky, Thomas Lucky, Bill Williams, Verdell Larson and Thomas Grace. Trustees are A. L. Gibson, Robert Larson, Seman Larson, Jesse Bowman and Bate Bond.

Festival of Purim Observed By Jewish Congregations

The festival of Purim, commemorating the deliverance of the Jews of ancient Persia from the massacre planned by their enemy Haman, will be celebrated here both by Temple Emanuel and the B'nai Jacob congregation.

Services began last night at the Temple Emanuel conducted by Rabbi Eugene Lippman of Cincinnati. They will continue tomorrow morning when the traditional carnival and masquerade for the children of the congregation will be held at 10 a. m.

Dolls will be dressed in traditional customs similar to those worn in the Book of Esther. There will be contest and games, and refreshments will be served to the children.

The B'nai Jacob synagogue will start its traditional commemoration of the festival Monday night when children and adults of the congregation gather at the temple, 50 Sturges avenue, at 7 p. m. The Book of Esther will be read by Rabbi Moshe Goldblum during the services.

On Sunday, March 20 at 3 p. m. the B'nai Jacob congregation will hold its carnival for children of the synagogue with the traditional celebration. Poems and skits on the Book of Esther will be presented by the children and refreshments will be served them by members of the Sisterhood.

The carnival for the children will be sponsored by the men of the congregation.

Churchman To Tell of Conference

Walter W. Muller, business man from Peoria, Ill., a prominent layman in the Evangelical UB church, will speak at the Main street church tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., on the theme, "The Amsterdam Conference and Europe in 1948."

Muller, an insurance man, took time last summer to go to Amsterdam at his own expense to attend the World Conference of Churches. Following the conference, Muller went on to Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, France and England, studying conditions.

He will tell of the things he saw and heard in his talk tomorrow night.

Muller now is serving his third term as chairman of the lay section of the International conference of Religious Education, an organization of 40 Protestant churches of which Harold Stassen is president. He has been a Sunday school teacher for 20 years, six of which he served as superintendent.

The public is invited to hear Muller's talk.

Prayer Meetings Open Way For Services

Cottage prayer meetings are being held in various homes of the members of the First Evangelical UB church in preparation for the special spiritual emphasis services to be held in the church March 27 to April 10.

Bishop G. D. Batdorf, bishop emeritus of the denomination, will be the guest speaker the second week of the services.

Meets Monday

Members of the Churchmen's Brotherhood of the St. John's church will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. Frank Wolverton will preside at the meeting and Clarence H. Fisher will be in charge of the program.

TO PREACH SUNDAY

LITTLE WASHINGTON — Rev. Everett Babcock, of Cleveland who is state superintendent of the Congregational church, will take in new members and preach in the Congregation church here at 9:30 a. m. Sunday.

St. Paul Men's Club to See Two Educational Movies

Men of St. Paul Lutheran church will meet in the church parlors Monday at 8 p. m. for a business meeting and program.

On the program will be two films shown by Donald C. Matthes, a member of the church whose hobby is movies. At the church Matthes presents a religious film once each month to members of the Sunday school.

During the Monday night program, Matthes will show "The True Glory," a government film, and a technicolor sound film, "Unfinished Rainbows," provided by an aluminum concern.

★

Both Sunday evening services and mid-week services at the Central Methodist church will be discontinued during the evangelistic series here. The Youth Fellowship will meet at 6 p. m. tomorrow to allow members to attend the opening revival services at Johnny Appleseed junior high school.

★

There will be open house for all three Luther League groups of the First Lutheran church next Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the assembly room. This will include the senior, young people's and junir groups.

★

In addition to the Sunday services at the Grace Episcopal church, there will be Holy Communion twice during the week. It will be administered at 7 a. m. Tuesday and again on Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. in the chapel. At 8 p. m. Wednesday, Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard will hold the confirmation instructions class in the church with an informal fellowship hour in the undercroft afterwards.

★

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will be the speaker for the annual father and son dinner to be held at the First Christian church next Friday. Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the church, will be the toastmaster and movies will be shown during the evening. Approximately 200 are expected to attend.

★

Evening services will be discontinued at the First United Presbyterian church during the evangelistic services in Johnny Appleseed auditorium.

Dulles Taking Wise Stand on New Pact

It has been known for about a week in Washington that John Foster Dulles intended to say publicly at the Cleveland conference sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches what he has been telling officials privately since before the election:—"That the United States should not seek military bases so close to the Soviet Union as to cary an offensive threat that is disproportionate to defensive value," and that "That is why our fellowship with the peoples of Western Europe, and particularly of Scandinavia, ought not to seem to bring United States military might directly to Russia's border."

Since the effort to unite Scandinavia in an independent defensive league has been torpedoed, and Norway with Denmark about to follow has joined the Atlantic pact, is Dulles' warning a case of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen? Some who really agree with him said, when they heard he would speak out, that he is too late.

In the sense that we now have a special commitment, which must be honored, to protect Norway and Denmark against the consequences, it is too late to undo what it would have been much better not to do.

But it is by no means too late to consider very seriously how we are to deal with the consequences. The pact is not an honorary society in which, once elected, the new member wears his decoration on gala occasions. Nor is the pact a simple case of our promising to defend — let us say Norway and Denmark — and of letting them buy weapons in return for their promise to go to war if the other members are at war. The pact is, as all the world knows, a legal framework within which the high command of the principal nations is to organize a strategical system.

The plan of that system is still under discussion, and that is why the intervention of Dulles has great practical significance

MAY BRING CONFLICT

His warning against seeking military bases so close to the Soviet Union must be read in connection with the Norwegian reply (March 4) to the Soviet Union. Norway, says the note, "desires to reiterate most categorically" that it will not "grant bases for foreign military forces on Norwegian territory as long as Norway is not attacked or subject to threats of attack."

The objection to the Scandinavian policy, which has changed the original character of the Atlantic pact, is that it may, if it is not checked, bring the conflict to a point where only a solution by war is possible.

That is what Dulles was talking about, in effect that American power should be used to deter Soviet aggression but not to back the Russians into a corner.

And what he was saying reflects the views of our most responsible military leaders. They are by no means pleased with the handiwork of some of their more impetuous colleagues in the Pentagon and of the foreign service officers who are more strategically-minded than the responsible strategists themselves.

Some of them, indeed, have not forgotten what General Eisenhower said on November 14, 1942, in a telegram to the War department, now reprinted in his book, about the political advice he had received before the landing in North Africa from one of the principal figures in the Scandinavian affair—that "existing French sentiment here does not remotely agree with prior calculations."

Dedicate New Organ At Service

Plan Recital Sunday At 7:30

The new Minshall-Estey organ, recently installed in the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church, will be dedicated in special services tomorrow.

During the Bible school hour at 9:30 a. m., Mrs. J. A. McKinley will play organ selections. At the morning worship hour, 10:45 a. m., James Callahan, church organist, will present special selections and Mrs. Harry Mizer, chairman of the organ committee, will formally present the organ to the church. As chairman of the congregation, O. B. Wheaton will accept it for the church.

The pastor, Rev. E. W. Welch will lead in the dedication litany and offer the prayre of dedication. The choir will sing, "The King of Glory" and Mrs. Everett Them and Mrs. H. E. McAllister will sing as a duet, "Take Jesus With You." Soloist will be Mrs. Sarah Stoner of Cleveland, whose number will be "Open the Gates of the Temple."

Mrs. V. W. Webb, organist at the First United Presbyterian church will present an organ program with guest vocalists, Mrs. W. W. Wigglesworth and her son, Ernest Wigglesworth of Perrysville, adding to the music, at 7:30 p. m.

They will sing as a duet, "My God and I". Wigglesworth will present "The Holy City" and his mother will sing, Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "The Stranger of Galilee.

The services during the day are open to the public, Rev. Welch announced

Enrollment In Classes Shows Big Gain

Volunteers Expand Children's Program

An expanded program has been placed in effect to provide better training for the 83 boys and girls enrolled in the children's services at the Volunteers of America headquarters.

Interest in the classes has increased by leaps and bounds, Lt. Maj. R. L. Gutterman of the Volunteers said. Only 17 children were enrolled when the classes started.

Gutterman said the program will start with a general assembly of all the children during which gospel songs will be sung and Bible stories will be told. Then, the pre-school children will be separated into one class to learn picture coloring and handwork. The older children will be presented a chalk talk or object lesson at the same time.

The work of the children's services is under the direction of F. F. Smith, supervisor, and Mrs. Lilyan Dickerson, musical director.

The meetings, held every Friday from 7 to 8 p. m., are open to all boys and girls from four to 16 years of age, Maj. Gutterman said. With the expanded program the older children are now being urged to bring their younger brothers and sisters, he said.

The meetings began in October and have increased to an average attendance of 45 children.

14 Years to Go!

Judge, 86, Wants to Remain on Bench

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Alfred Mack has just 14 years to go if his expectations come true. He wants to remain on the common pleas court bench until he is 100 years old.

"If I feel half as good as I do now, I expect to remain on the bench until I am 100," Judge Mack told a reporter.

The white bearded jurist, always a man with a snappy answer, was 86 years old Jan 10.

He has been on the bench for 16 years, practiced law for 47, and plans to run for re-election next year. He is a Republican.

Judge Mack was graduated from Harvard law school cum laude in 1883. He is said to be the only survivor of the class which was taught by Oliver Wendell Holmes

The judge has not been one to wait until things come to him. He goes after them. He always has been a fighter, and, of course has his enemies. But they respect him.

In 1941, he filed suit in the Ohio Supreme Court to have his salary raised $108.96 a year

He based the claim on new federal census figures announced for Hamilton county. At the time, his pay was $694.14 a month. He wanted it raised to $703.32. He got it.

Since then, salaries of common pleas judges have been increased to $11,500 a year.

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America asked the State Supreme Court in 1935 to rule Judge Mack off the bench in a case.

Asked if he had any prejudice, the judge, from the witness stand, declared:

"I took an oath three times standing under that flag (pointing to the American flag) to administer my judicial duties honestly, fearlessly and to the best of my ability.

"No man with red blood could take that oath without having every fiber of his body attuned to it. If I couldn't sit upon the bench with that feeling, I wouldn't want to sit."

The higher court held Judge Mack to be unbiased. Then he removed himself from the case.

Just last November, Nicholas Klein, an attorney and former councilman, in an open letter to Judge Mack, urged him to resign, declaring

"Lawyers feel that even if they win a case in your room they and their clients have not had a fair trial...lawyers are officers to the court and entitled to try their own cases and not have the judge act as lawyer and judge you would be doing yourself and the public a favor by resigning."

Judge Mack told reporters:

"I have nothing to say to such an insulting letter." He did not answer it.

2 City Churches to Present Religious Film Tomorrow

Two Mansfield churches will present the religious film "Reaching from Heaven" at tomorrow evening services.

This is one of the films that was shown to Mansfield ministers in January. It will be shown at the First Methodist and at the First Evangelical UB churches.

Both Rev. V. C. Stamets, pastor of the First Evangelical, and Rev. E. W. Stoneburner of the First Methodist church have praised the film.

"Few films show as convincingly that God reaches down into the lives of men, brings light into their darkness and fills their hearts with the strength of His Divine assurance. This picture contains many pictures and impressive scenes as well as the genuinely true affection of a young couple that will charm you," Rev. Stamets said.

At the First Methodist church, there will be an admission fee for adults and at the First Evangelical UB a free-will offering will be taken.

Future Homemakers Clubs Holds Session

Members of the Future Homemakers 4-H club made plans last night to participate in the 4-H tag day being held today The group met at the home of Mrs. Norma Wilson, 48 Mansfield avenue.

Mrs. Harold Tingley, adviser, presented 4-H rings to Dick Hagerman and Charles Tingley for selling 500 boxes of dessert each.

The next meeting will be April 1 at the home of Norma Bishop, Beal road

'Cheaper By the Dozen'

"Cheaper by the Dozen," by Frank and Ernestine Gilbreth, a non-fiction selection, is among the new books which will be available at the Mansfield Public library Monday. The book is a readable and humorous account of an amazing American family.

Both father and mother were industrial engineers and they applied the principles of their profession to the rearing of their 12 children.

SUZANNE and JOSEPH, by Georges Duhamel, the French novelist, are bound together in a volume that completes the PASQUIER CHRONICLE. In the first book the actress sister, Suzanne, is at her most devastating at 29. In a fit of pique at her manager she makes a visit to the family home of one of her admirers.

There her effect on the family is something like that of the serpent in Eden. Joseph's story shows that vulgar and arrogant man at the height of his material success.

SOMETHING GLEANED, by Theda Kenyon, is a novel based on a little known side of the American Revolution. An Englishman named Jackson had contacted to provide women for the British forces in America Unable to meet his quota otherwise, it was his habit to shanghai decent servant girls and any others he could catch without trouble for himself. This is the story of a lovely young woman so captured and how she struggled to free herself until her final rescue by a titled Hessian officer.

THE EMPERORS DUCHESS, by Countess Waldeck, is a new novel of Napoleon's Empire. The chief character is the lovely Duchess d'Abrantes whose husband was Napoleon's aide and Governor of Paris. This is a highly romantic tale with a somewhat different approach from the usual concoction for Napoleon fans.

Other fiction:

WOMAN IN THE SEA, by Smith; EDGE OF NIGHT, by Kelly; DEVILS RECKONING, by Burton; GIVE UP THE GHOST, by Erskine; CARELESS MRS. CHRISTIAN, by Russell.

Non-fiction:

MICROBES MILITANT, by Frederick Eberson, is the story of modern preventive medicine and control of infectious diseases. While technical in character, the book is written in such a way as to be of interest to the layman. It presents microbes challenge, meeting over newest advances with another kind of resistance, the antibiatics, including streptomycin.

THE PROPER STUDY OF MANKIND, by Stuart Chase, is this popular author's long-awaited report on the progress of the social sciences. This is one of those rare books which actually help us to keep up with the world. The book, although small, covers a wide range of research, charting each field and assessing the contributions of scientists.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, by Basil Mathews, is a new full-length biography of the great colored leader and teacher. In addition to an evaluation of Washington's achievements, the author considers the reasons why some members of his own race opposed his policies. Other Non-Fiction:

THE R. H. FACTOR, by Hill and Damoskek; HERE'S HOW IN FISHING, by Morrison; GRIDIRON GRENADIERS, by Cohane; HAPPY HOME, by Benedict; FLASH PHOTOGRAPHY, by Parke; HOME BUILT PHOTO EQUIPMENT, by Burton; MR. JUSTICE BLACK, by Frank; HOW TO MAKE A WAGE SURVEY, by Belcher.

Births Double County Deaths

Richland county's population showed a considerable increase during February as births outnumbered deaths more than two to one.

In Mansfield 125 births were recorded during the month. Seventy-one were boys and 54 were girls. There were 37 deaths in the city.

In the rural area of the county there were three births and 19 deaths, the Mansfield-Richland County Health department reported today.

Derides Filibuster Aides as 'Flapjaws'

What manner of men are "the Flapjaws," the pungent name the Chicago Sun-Times has applied to the filibusters now staging a sit-down strike in the U. S. Senate?

There is the aging Tom Connally with his unique but now thinning page boy hairdo who, three days after being given a "brotherhood" award in New York City, denounced proposed laws against mob murder as the work "of pressure groups covered with slime." A decade ago Connally's mordant wit used to evoke laughter from the galleries. But today it brings only scowls of disapproval from Americans who have been taught by war that human misery is no longer a matter of jest.

Then, too, there is the venerable, able but reactionary former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Georgia. Were he as briefly educated as some of his colleagues, Senator George's deliberate misstatements of fact might be attributed to ignorance or mental incompetence.

The senior Senator from the state of the Talmadges and the Imperial Wizard of, the Ku Klux Klan can offer no such defense for his passionate assertion that the F.E.P. C. bill asserts "you can't select your personal associates as well as your business associates," which Senator George knows is a total falsehood.

Next there is the reedy-voiced junior senator from Georgia, the "quarterback" of the filibusters, who seems never to be able to find undergarments ample enough to obviate the constant necessity for adjusting it as he speaks. Senator Russell's argument, voiced repeatedly, is that rights legislation is aimed at "penalizing one section of the nation".

These are the leaders of the current filibuster before whom the Senate Democratic leadership deprives senators of the opportunity to inform the country about faulty legislation. What are the facts? All bills in toduced in either house of the Congress are subject to hearings which vary in length, depending upon the importance of the legislation and the congressional and public interest of the measure.

In the interim between the reporting of each measure to the House or Senate, both of which almost invariably hold hearings, there is further opportunity via statements to the press, radio programs, letters written by members of the Congress at public expense, circulation of printed hearings also paid for by the public and speeches by members of the Congress to advocate or oppose any bill pending before them.

AMPLE TIME

Then there is discussion on the floor of the house of representatives and the Senate during which any senator opposed to a measure has ample opportunity to expose the weakness of any piece of legislation, real or imaginary. No attemp at cloture is usually made until one or more weeks of filibuster have clearly demonstrated that a filibuster is in progress. The total time up to this point for the discussion of the merits or demerits of any bill usually runs from four to twelve weeks.

Suppose at this point sixteen senators sign a cloture petition and limitation of debate is voted. Even then there is ample opportunity for discussion provided in the current resolutions to amend Senate Rule XXII.

Can any intelligent American doubt, under these circumstances, that from 4 to 12 weeks of examination of any bill introduced in the Congress is not sufficient time for members of the Congress to stir the country to opposition to any bill which is harmful of democracy?

Communist Plot Foiled

ATHENS — (INS) — Greek police announced yesterday the smashing of a communist plot to assassinate Lieut. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, head of the American military mission to Greece.

Police Chief Angelos Evert said that all of the communist rebels involved in the plot have been arrested and that some have confessed. A cache of weapons were said to have been seized.

Evert declined to divulge further details of the attempted assassination. He said that investigations are continuing.

The Greek Minister of Public Order, Constantine Rendis, confirmed the reported communist plan to kill Van Fleet, and said that police first learned of it two weeks ago.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, MARCH 12, 1949

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—and you can at least take a look at some of the new cars.

Just a week ago today that those phony checks were being cashed in Mansfield—almost time for another round of them.

Commenting on changing times, one observer voices the view that the country was better off when it had more whittlers and fewer chiselers.

Lausche Seeks More Gambling Curbs

WHILE Ohio already has plenty of laws to stop commercialized gambling in cities and counties where officials aren't obligated to a "hands off" policy, Governor Lausche is asking the legislature for additional authority along that line.

As is quite generally known, the governor has power to remove mayors who fail in their law enforcement duties, but it is now asked that the state's chief executive be given authority to oust malfeasant or nonfeasant sheriffs as well.

One bill to be up for committee consideration next week covers this point while another would enable a county prosecutor, on his own volition, to procure a "padlock order" from the common pleas court, closing a gambling joint as a common nuisance.

Laws already prohibit property owners from permitting commercialized gambling on premises over which they have control, but these are largely ignored in cities such as Mansfield where the gambling element has the permission of officials to operate without police interference.

Whatever may come of Governor Lausche's announced determination to clamp down on illegal gambling activities in Ohio, it seems worthy of notice that he has quite definite views on the subject of law enforcement duties of city and county officials and disagrees with the idea that either elective or appointive officials in minor subdivisions are within their rights in deciding which state laws should be enforced and which can be ignored.

Russia Trying to Spread Fear

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES it is now possible to analyze fairly dispassionately what is going on in the minds of the Kremlin. Having thus far lost the cold war in Italy, France, and Scandinavia, the Russian leaders appear to feel that they have a major weapon at hand in the world's (and especially Europe's) fear of being hurled into another holocaust.

Hence, the recent shouts of communists throughout the world that they would be traitors to their own nations in the event of war with Russia. This was no news to any adult mind. It was merely shouted from the housetops on Moscow's orders in an effort to stir up fear of fifth columns in the event of war.

The opinion of some top strategists that Russia could not mount a war, except on the land mass of Eurasia, seems to back the idea that the Russians want to keep the cold war cold. They would be willing to move against any hapless neighbor, of course, if they could do so without risking air or sea attacks by the United States.

The Russians prefer, for the present at least, to fight with propaganda.

Jurors Find 'Axis Sally' Guilty

JUSTICE moved slowly but surely in the case of American-born Mildred E. Gillars, the woman known as "Axis Sally," who has finally been convicted for her traitorous broadcasts from Germany during the progress of World War II.

The fact that the jury found her guilty on only one of the eight counts presented by the government evidences the extreme care taken to protect the "rights" of this strange woman, who turned against her own country in a time of great danger and played into the hands of the nazis.

While the extreme penalty for such an offense is death, it is assumed that the sentence will be a term of imprisonment, with five years as the minimum—and "Axis Sally" should consider herself fortunate that her fate is being determined in the country she betrayed rather than under the rules of those with whom she connived in wartime.

Early Planning for Summer Events

IT IS GRATIFYING to see first steps being taken by the Mansfield Public Parks association to sponsor a Fourth of July celebration this year at Arlin field. It is not too early to start such planning, nor is it too early to commend the group which has taken the project in hand.

Mansfield's parks have made steady progress both in beautification and in improved recreational facilities under the guidance of the various associations and the city-wide organization.

With summer again approaching, emphasis on park programs and such highlight affairs as the July Fourth celebration is both timely and worthwhile.

Pyramid Clubs Recall Similar Illusions

THE wide-spread craze called Pyramid should remind us once more of a frightening fact. Despite our immense expenditures on education, Americans still live in the black, dripping caves of economic superstitution.

All that is needed is a dazzling illusion of easy gain expressed by a master of word-magic, and millions of good people forget all their lessons.

Perhaps in a month in which taxes come due and we are reminded of the billions of dollars that are being redistributed in the solemn name of law, we can spare little sympathy for the redistribution of a few tens of thousands by the game of Pyramid.

But the pop-eyed sincerity with which otherwise reliable housewives and breadwinners tell you that they can make $2,048 out of $1 should give some of us pause.

Is it, after all, worth while to tell people unpleasant truth? What boots it with incessant toil to produce and save, when by yeilding to illusions we can live and maybe die in happy anticipation? Or in a deeper philosophic vein we may indulge the thought that perhaps whatever people can be made to think is true after all, and we can replace our prudent systems with a civilization of delusions.

We all now know how Pyramid works, or is supposed to work. Charley McCarthy gets two Mortimer Snerds to get two more Mortimer Snerds to get two more, etc., etc., until 256 Mortimer Snerds bring $8 each, and then somebody gets $2,048. That is, if the breed of M. S.'s holds out.

That's how it purports to work out. But laziness or indifference or carelessness breaks in, and few pyramids are completed. And the thing must grow so fast that the credulity of a whole city can be exhausted in a week.

* * *

Nothing New About It.

THE SCIENCE of economics has been infected from the beginning with illusions almost as absurd as this. For economics is only in part a science of actual money and units of work or capital. It is in large part a speculative art, dependent not upon fact but upon what some people may think is fact.

John Law, the greatest of economic soothsayers, practiced his magic nearly two and a half centuries ago. It is interesting that he was a Scotch economist who practiced in France.

He convinced the French government which was, of course, politically minded, that people could be persuaded that paper money secured by the generality of land, resources and inhabitants that constituted France would be accepted for the payment of debts and the exchange of goods.

The government, infected by its own propaganda, later agreed to accept this money in payment for taxes. A succession of banks was created, each with a more majestic name. There was first the "General Bank," then the "Company of Canada," the "Company of Louisiana or of the Occident," the "Company of the East Indies and of China," and the "Company of India." The wildest and most fantastic speculation arose and after four years collapsed.

Law spent his last years in exile, writing learned justifications of his operations and, it is said, almost persuaded the French government to take him back.

Law's successors are active. They tell us that the bigger our budget, the safer we are from economic disaster; that if at the same time we spend more and also cancel more of our debt, our economy will be in balance.

We are told that the production of goods to give away will add to our national wealth; that this government or any government can direct the production of a nation.

So far, there seem to be enough believers to sustain these illusions. So far, our national Pyramid is not resting on its apex. So far.

Who Controls Mind?

By CALVIN A. BYERS

QUESTION: "Where is the greatest unexplored area in the world?" Answer: "Under your hat."—March Reader's Digest.

* * *

EACH of us, man, woman and child, has a mind that can read and think. We rarely think of more than one thing at a time, and so we can control our thoughts by training them to leave what seems unimportant to us and to stay with what we desire to master. We become like what we continually think about!

Each of us is created with a "little spark of celestial fire called conscience." which George Washington advised that we "labor to keep alive in our breast." We know right from wrong. We have a noble nature that we hide, because it is too precious or too fragile to show to many people. So we keep it for our dearest friend, and to share with little children.

If each of us continually wore our good side out, the world would soon change from war to peace, for then each neighbor would see only the other neighbor's best side, and they would love and help each other.

Education or race or creed or financial standing, armies, navies or air power cannot control the power of thought, which is the rival of the atom bomb for control of this world of ours the Superman, in reality.

The greatest battle of all time is being fought, right here and now! It is the battle between right and wrong, the struggle between evil and good. Vacillating minds dodge back and forth in the "no man's land" between the opposing forces. They hinder others but they hurt themselves most, for they cheat themselves out of being what they were meant to be, healthy, fearless, happy human beings. No buddy, however brave, can rescue another man's mind. That he must do, himself!

How can a man guarantee his thoughts—insure them against evil? Have you heard of prayer? Did you ever study and practice it, seriously? Prayer is half of a great team. The other half is Work. The man or the nation that harnesses them together can change the face of the earth—can remake it into heaven.

The consecration of a man's mind makes his farming forceful. It is no accident that the most fertile and valuable farms in the country are among the oldest, and have been for generations under the management of religious men— Quakers, Catholics, Mennonites, Amish, Dunkards..

Want to farm? Bring your mind, and come! There'll be work—and harvest—enough for all of us!

Daily Bible Thought

A perverse heart shall depart from me; I will know no evil thing.—Ps. 101:4.

TODAY IN HISTORY

March 12, 1940, marked the date of the signing, in Moscow, of the Finnish-Russian peace treaty.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

One corner in the United States is common to four states —New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah, which meet there.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Leaders Will Hold To Russia's Creed

A READER of this column asks whether a change in the supreme leadership of Soviet Russia might improve the chances of world peace. My correspondent presumably has in mind a substitute for Marshal Stalin as head of the communist regime.

The answer, from my viewpoint, is definitely "no."

Of course there will have to be a change of leadership in due course on the basis that Stalin isn't immortal. Recognition of this is seen in the current speculation about the possibility that Vyacheslav Molotov is even now being groomed to take over some or all of the marshal's duties.

Peace likely is safer in Stalin's hands than it would be in any others because Moscow obviously wants to avoid another world right away and Stalin is most capable of keeping the lid clamped on.

My viewpoint is based on this fact: The Red goal is defined and immutable. Communism has declared itself for world revolution to overthrow all other forms of government.

Communist leaders may come and they may go, but the Red creed will not change so long as the ism lives. The creed demands that the revolution be pushed as hard as feasible.

That policy represents the beliefs of Lenin, Stalin and all the other leaders of bolshevism. You might as well talk about altering the fundamental principles of a religion.

Under Stalin's leadership the world revolution has been pushed to the extreme limit.

Secretary of the Army Royall summed up the situation in his annual report for the department.

He called Russia's blockade of Berlin a "day to day threat to the peace of the world." He said that "from the beginning of the blockade and up to the present time the situation in Berlin has been tense."

"It has been apparent," Royall said at another point, "that the Soviet authorities have had no intention of respecting past agreements or of composing the growing differences. On the contrary, it has been their manifest purpose to cause all possible confusion and conflict short of war, in an effort to drive us from Berlin and diminish American influence in Europe and in the world. . . . The future of the Berlin situation—just as the future of other situations involving the Soviet Union—is hard to prophesy.

"We cannot and will not surrender our rights and principles. We will continue to do everything possible to avoid war."

What Some Other People Are Saying

JENE MAYNOR, noted rocket expert: "In four short months I expect to be zooming in a rocket through the skies above Lake Michigan at 1,400 miles an hour and to a height of 30 miles. . . . Mainly I'm searching for valuable scientific data of both nuclear and aeronautical importance."

Summary of Week's Happenings

Controls On Installment-Buying Eased

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE nation's business was given a shot in the arm last week with relaxation of controls on installment buying.

You can buy a car on 21 months' credit now. The same is true for refrigerators, radios and television sets.

The Federal Reserve Board decided to loosen up on the credit reins after it had been besieged by complaints of merchants and car dealers. During January installment buying fell off for the first time in three years.

Previously you had to pay off credit over $1,000 in 18 months; under, in 15 months. Down payments were cut by the board from 20 to 15 per cent on all items except cars. On those you have to pay cash for one-third of the total price.

Unemployment Up

The census bureau reports that unemployment in February totaled 3,200,000 across the nation. This is an increase of 550-000 over January, but its rate of increase has slowed from January when 700,000 were added to the jobless rolls.

Compared with 1941, February jobless levels are low. In 1941, one out of every ten persons in the civilian labor force was idle. Last month only one in 20 was jobless.

Motor production throughout the nation aggregated 112,504 units during the first week in March, according to Ward's Automotive Reports. The previous week's total was 114,069. A year ago only 10,841 units were built.

The Hudson Motor Car Co. has laid off 4,500 workers and cut production from 972 to 800 cars a day.

Fourth Round Preliminaries

The Ford Motor Co., due soon to open wage talks with the CIO United Auto Workers for its 106,-000 workers, declared in a statement:

"We are now well into an economic period unlike any we have experienced since the war. Most postwar consumer demand has been mopped up. Success now depends not on how many cars we can make, but how many we can sell. If wage increases force our prices up we will lose out to competitors and be forced to lay off workers."

At Home

Filibuster Trouble.

A 15-month rent control bill was cleared for House debate last week but it is an open question whether the curbs can be renewed before their expiration at the end of this month.

The fate of the rent control law hangs on the Senate's legislative timetable—almost hopelessly snarled by the southern filibuster against a rule to bar filibusters. Until that forensic battle is settled, the Senate can't get down to considering the rent dispute, which is now stalled in a Senate banking subcommittee.

The Senate went into night sessions last week in a none-too-hopeful effort to wear, down the filibuster.

Maritime Lend-Lease.

The American cruiser Milwaukee, flying a hammer and sickle pennant, came home last week after nearly five years in the Soviet navy.

Manned by a Russian crew, the 26-year-old warship was turned back to the U. S. Navy in a brief ceremony at Lewes, Delaware.

The 7,050-ton Milwaukee is the first of 586 American naval vessels loaned the Soviet Union during the war to be returned.

The state department is readying a new note to Moscow demanding return of at least 31 other American vessels — 28 frigates and three ice breakers.

The Balance Wheel.

Births in the United States totaled 3,876,000 in 1947, according to the Office of Vital Statistics. The 1947 birth rate, highest on record, was 25.8 for each 1,000 population, compared with an estimated 24.4 for 1948.

Death claimed 119,173 babies less than a year old in 1947, but it was the lowest infant mortality rate on record. The total was 8,110 more than in 1946.

This increase reflects the tremendous increase in births during 1947 and is not a rise in infant mortality, the office says.

Premature birth was the greatest killer, accounting for 41,053 fatalities.

Disciplinary Review.

The Army has cleared the names of 5,200 World War II veterans who were dishonorably discharged.

But the Army Discharge Review Board has refused to erase dishonorable discharges for the remainder of 24,000 ex-servicemen whose cases have been studied thus far.

Brig. Gen. W. W. Irvine said 1,500 of the 5,200 veterans who had their discharges raised from one of the three unsatisfactory grades to "honorable discharge" or "discharge under honorable conditions" didn't even have to make a written appeal.

Abroad

Russia Makes Shift.

In recent weeks there have been many changes in high government places here and abroad. It is not so much a question of new faces as a reshuffling of old, familiar faces in new places.

World capitals still buzz with speculation over the Kremlin's substitution of Andrei Vishinsky for Vyacheslav M. Molotov as Soviet foreign minister. The elevation of Andrei Gromyko, formerly chief Russian delegate to the United Nations, to Vishinsky's old post as deputy foreign minister is regarded as further indication of no change in the tough, uncompromising Molotov school of foreign affairs.

Close students of Soviet affairs regard Molotov as having stepped up, possibly to assist the aging Premier Stalin.

Global Pact Near.

What started out originally as the Western Union — Britain, France and the Benelux countries — is culminating as a North Atlantic defensive alliance, the largest regional pact ever conceived. It grew into that because the western European states looked to the United States and Canada for help.

Norway, which last week joined the talks in Washington, said the pact was designed to stop any "crazy Hitler" that might challenge the free world. Oslo previously had rejected a Russian offer for a non-aggression treaty.

Denmark is on the verge of making up its mind. The Danish foreign minister flew to Washington for exploratory talks.

Quotes

Gen. George C. Marshall, former U. S. Secretary of State: "In the magnificent work of the European Recovery Program more cooperation has been shown in five months than in the previous 500 years."

Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Cooperation Administrator: "If economic unity abroad leads to a common defense unity with the United States, together we can win any way —cold or otherwise."

In Short

Banned: By the University of Pennsylvania's interfraternity council, paddling and all other forms of hazing of pledges.

Sentenced: By Communist Bulgaria, 15 Protestant churchmen, convicted of spying and black marketing activities, four to life imprisonment, 11 to terms of 1 to 18 years.

Set: By Pilot Bill Odom, a 5,000-mile world's nonstop record for light planes, by flying from Hawaii to Teterboro, N. J., in 36 hours.

Proposed: By Britain, an empire parley at London or Ottawa to devise a Pacific pact similar to the nearly completed Atlantic security alliance.

Spy System Augmented

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — It is rather a sad commentary on the state of the world today that a great democracy such as ours, if it is to assume the leadership which it has inherited, must have as an adjunct a spy system that is, like our Army, Navy and Air Force, "second to none."

During the very brief consideration by the House of the "hush-hush" bill legalizing and implementing our espionage system already established in the Central Intelligence Agency — C. I. A. — it was emphasized that our spy system has been much weaker than those of other nations.

But now, by the grace of this bill, we will have a first-class one and will be able to hold up our heads in the world, and will be even as other nations.

There are enough hints in provisions of House Bill 2663 for our agents, their travel abroad, their confidential expense accounts, and such, to assure us of American spies in the best old-world tradition.

The bill is certain to become law since a similar measure, with one exception, was passed by the Senate in the last Congress. It was unanimously approved then also by the House armed services committee, but failed of House action in the last-minute rush.

The exception in the current measure is the provision for admitting up to 100 aliens a year, outside of immigration laws, to supply the C. I. A. with information.

It was made plain, in the restricted explanations in the House, that these will be foreigners who will be taken under our protection to tell us all about what goes on in Russia and her satellite nations behind the Iron Curtain.

Lowered Standards.

THIS reporter watched the proceedings in the House, for the bill did seem to be a landmark. Many measures involving departures from established ways and traditions of far less significance have provoked notable debate.

This, however, was little more than routine and, after, all, it is routine in these times, which is itself a bit frightening. During the 40 minutes of debate permitted under the extraordinary procedure adopted for this bill this reporter counted from 75 to 100 members present of the 435, though others came in at the end when summoned for the vote. Only four votes were cast against the measure, 384 for it.

It was with reluctance that Rep. Dewey Short (Mo.), ranking Republican member of the armed service committee, supported the bill. He said there were doubts in the minds of many members about it.

"We're engaged in a highly dangerous business," he said. "It's something I abhor. But sometimes we have got to fight fire with fire."

It would have helped if somebody had stood up, one of those old-fashioned fellows that we refer to as "a democrat with a small d," and at least said for the record, as such men used to do so eloquently, just where all this brings us.

What, for example, it means in the history of civilization when the once free-and-easy, live-and let-live democracy, which for so long has given its own glorious sort of moral leadership to the world, now has to lower its standards and set up an elaborate spy system, even as other nations. It somehow seems out of character.

There should be a better way; but if we can't find it, maybe there isn't any other way for the time being.

That's the philosophical attitude. But it's very hard for anyone who has watched so many battles here for individual freedom out in protest. A blind sort of protest it is, of course, the world being as crazy as it is today.

Dave Boone Says:

IN AN era when things seem to become more muddled every hour it's good to hear of a slight step in the other direction. A railroad is going to put out a timetable this year with the daylight saving schedule plainly printed, instead of requiring the public to figure out what time it is.

* * *

The New Haven road makes this announcement and it's about the only cheering item in the day's news. For years the railroads have printed the regular timetable, with clock-hands on the first page so you could work up a good sweat doping out train arrivals and departures.

* * *

It's been an unwritten law on most roads not to help passengers in this respect and in stations all over the land from April to October you could see perplexed groups in huddles trying to determine if they were choosing a train or doing a crossword puzzle.

* * *

The only way I can account for this sudden reversal of policy is that railroad officials themselves planned to leave town occasionally this summer.

Timely Editorial

Skinned Knuckle Season.

This is the skinned knuckle season. It runs until March 31, which is the deadline for unfastening or hacking in two the rust-encrusted nuts and bolts holding 1948 automobile license tags in place(and attaching 1949 plates to the car.

This is the season when we envy automobile owners in those states where there are permanent license plates. In an increasing number of states car owners securely fasten a set of plates to the holders, and annually change only a small insert or tag denoting that the license fee for the current year has been paid.

As we look forward to a session of employing penetrating oil, screw-driver, pliers, and maybe a hacksaw, we wish that Ohio's lawmakers would come to the sensible conclusion that permanent license tags are the thing for this state, too.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
